Mother Admits Slaying Boy, 8

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Mariann Colby sat in Cuyahoga County Jail and said, "It was a horrible accident."

"Why should I want to hurt him? He and my son got along well."

Mrs. Colby, a 40-year-old Shaker Heights housewife, was charged with first degree murder Thursday in the fatal shooting of 8-year-old John Cremer Young Jr., a neighbor boy who often played with her 9-year-old son, Dane. She pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Colby signed a statement Thursday that she accidentally fired the shot that killed the boy Aug. 24, County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber and Shaker Heights Police Chief Carl Longstreet said.

Mrs. Colby has signed two conflicting versions of the shooting, one on Wednesday, Gerber said.

On Wednesday she said Dane accidentally fired the shot, Gerber said. Police said it was impossible for the boy to exert enough pressure to pull the trigger of the .32-caliber revolver. Mrs. Colby then changed her story and said she fired the shot, Gerber said.

Mrs. Colby was arraigned in Shaker Heights Municipal Court and was refused bond, despite the objection of her attorney, Gerald Gold, who said authorities had "no proof whatsoever" to substantiate a first degree murder charge. No bond is allowed in a first degree murder charge.

Authorities have not disclosed the basis for the charge, which indicates evidence of premeditation.

Judge John A. Corlett set a preliminary hearing for Sept. 7. Authorities said specific details of Mrs. Colby's statement Thursday were these:

She said she had picked up the weapon and was carrying it, along with a pile of laundry. She dropped the laundry and when she stooped to pick it up, the gun fired.

The weapon was recovered after the first statement. She told police they would find the old, pearl-handled revolver wrapped into a package of ground meat in her refrigerator. Detectives said Mrs. Colby told them her husband Robert did not know about the gun.

The intensive questioning of Mrs. Colby began nine days after the body was discovered in a wooded area of Gates Mills. Detectives said Mrs. Colby told them she wrapped the boy's body in a car coat and a plastic bag, put it in her station wagon and left it where it was found.

Troops Bring Uneasy Calm To Natchez

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—Patrolling National Guardsmen, an early curfew and a ban on liquor imposed calm on this Mississippi River bluff city today—the first lull since a Negro leader was hurt in a booby-trap bombing a week ago.

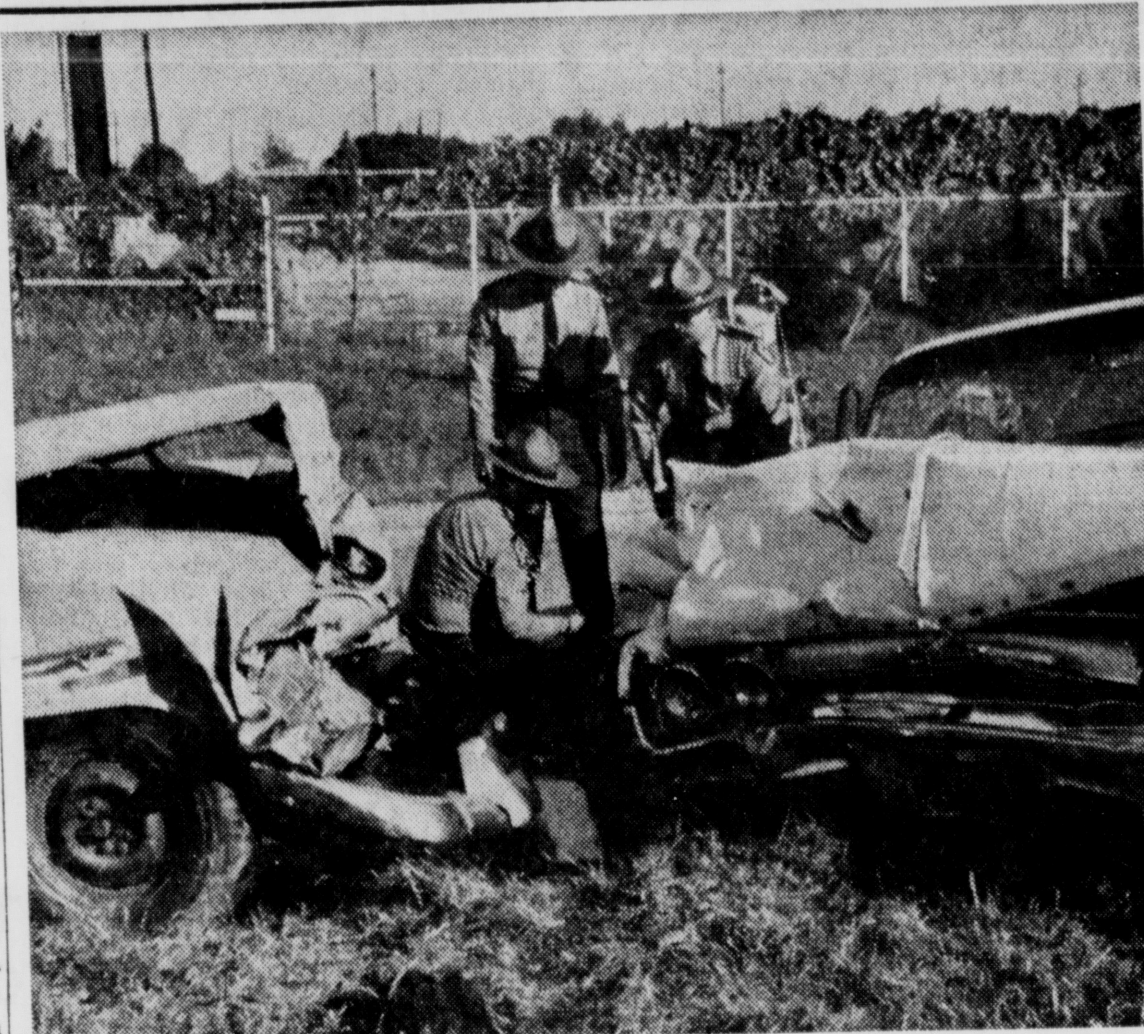

Guardsmen rode the deserted streets in jeeps. Bayonets flickered under street lights. Few cars were out. Curfew was 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Maj. Gen. Walter Johnson, state adjutant general, took personal command of the 650 Guardsmen who arrived in the city Thursday.

"We'll stay just as long as needed," Gen. Johnson said. Two reinforced battalions and a medical company moved into this city of 25,000 on orders from Gov. Paul Johnson.

The city has been on edge since a dynamite bomb last Friday exploded beneath the hood of George Metcalfe's parked car when he turned on the ignition.

Metcalfe, president of the Adams County chapter of the NAACP, was reported in fair condition. The blast knocked him from his car and broke his arm, leg and injured his face.

EIGHTH FATALITY — Pickaway County's eighth traffic fatality was recorded yesterday in a head-on crash on Route 23 west of Circleville. State Highway Patrolmen are pictured gathering statistical information concerning the accident. The traffic victim was operating the car on the left. Two college students from South Carolina occupied the other vehicle.

Driver Is Killed In Head-on Crash

A Darbyville man died en route to Berger Hospital at about 4 p. m. yesterday following a head-on crash in the northbound lane of Route 23 opposite the Container Corporation of America Plant.

Fatally injured was Mr. Frank Burgett, 63, who was driving south in the northbound lane of Route 23. His 3-year-old grandson named Frank Burgett, was a passenger in the death car and was admitted to the hospital with cuts on the head and body and a possible skull fracture.

Driver of the second car involved was David L. Shroats, 18, Fayetteville, N. C. He and a passenger, Thomas Barnes Jr., 18, Spring Lake, S. C., were taken to Berger Hospital where they were treated for multiple lacerations and contusions and released.

State Patrolman Vic Ralston, investigating officer, said Shroats was wearing a seat belt which saved him from more severe injuries. The 18-year-olds were enroute to Marion, O. to visit relatives.

THE fatality, Pickaway County's eighth in 1965, occurred at about 3:55 p. m. when Burgett crashed head-on into the northbound Shroats vehicle. None of the persons involved was thrown free of the vehicles on impact, Ralston said. Burgett was killed.

Selma Sheriff Fined For Forcing March

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Sheriff James G. Clark of Dallas County has been fined $1,500 by a federal judge who ruled Clark in contempt of court for taking 200 Negroes on a four-mile forced march.

The Feb. 10 march, coming near the height of a Negro voter registration campaign in Selma, was in violation of a restraining order issued in court here Jan. 23, U.S. Dist. Judge Daniel H. Thomas said.

gett was pinned under the steering wheel when officers arrived and the wheel had to be broken to remove him from the wreckage.

According to members of the family, the 63-year-old Burgett "had been drinking all day," although no proof of the extent of intoxication had been offered.

His widow, Betty Hickman Burgett, told officers that her husband, oldest son and grandson had left home in Darbyville during the afternoon. The son, James, said that auto trouble developed on Route 22 on the way to Circleville and he had gotten out of the auto to look into the difficulty. The elder Burgett allegedly climbed under the steering wheel and drove off with the grandson in the car, leaving his son behind on the highway.

Patrolmen are checking out a report that an auto matching the description of the death car (including a man and a young child) had ran another car at the Eshelman Mill on E. Main St. about 15 minutes before the Route 23 accident.

Burgett had a record of driving under the influence of alcohol, including a manslaughter conviction. On May 1, 1954, he was convicted of second degree manslaughter and OVI in the death of Miss Rose Goode who was killed while boarding her car in front of St. Joseph's Church on W. Mount St.

According to records here, his operator's license was revoked for three years on the manslaughter charge and for another (Continued on Page 2)

Heavy Road Travel Seen for Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — The long Labor Day weekend begins with the exodus from work late today.

Heavy travel is expected on the last weekend of the summer. The National Safety Council figures nearly 87 million motor vehicles will be on the streets and roads at one time or another during the three-day period. It also calculates that American motorists will compile a record 8.9 billion miles of travel during the weekend.

NSC estimated recently that between 500 and 600 persons may die in traffic accidents during a period that begins at 6 p.m. today and ends at midnight Monday.

Fresh Fighting Seen in Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India claimed its forces shot down two American-made jet fighters flown by Pakistani pilots in fresh fighting that erupted in southwest Kashmir at dawn today.

One Pakistani F86 Sabre Jet was shot down in aerial combat and another was hit by Indian ground fire and crashed in Indian territory, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

He also charged that Pakistani jets strafed a Moslem mosque near the town of Chhamb at prayer time today.

Quoting reports from Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, he said seven planes strafed the Moslem house of worship in the Jaurian area and that 30 to 40 civilians were killed and the mosque was destroyed.

There has been no other mention by Indian officials of casualties, military or civilian.

The aerial combat, the third air clash since Wednesday in southeast Kashmir, was fought over the Aknoor-Chhamb sector of the border, inside Indian territory, the spokesman said.

It was reliably reported that American military officers went to Kashmir to check details of India's charges about Pakistan's use of American military equipment.

India claims American-made tanks spearheaded the Pakistani attack that crossed the international frontier and the United Nations cease-fire line at dawn Wednesday.

Pakistan has received 45-ton U.S. Patton tanks as well as F86 Sabre and F104 jet fighters under a military aid program.

India has acknowledged that the Pakistanis struck five miles deep into its territory, but claims the attack was halted after the fall of the towns of Dewa and Chhamb.

An unconfirmed report said the Pakistanis were attempting to cross rivers in the Chhamb sector and drive for the town of Aknoor and thus cut the important road linking Jammu, Kashmir's winter capital, with the city of Naushehra, about 45 miles to the northwest.

This road winds behind Indian positions along the U.N. cease-fire line in Kashmir and is the only major road available to the Indian army for reinforcing and supplying the Naushehra area.

Negotiators Working Hard

President Orders Continuous Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today both sides in the steel negotiations "may have actually adjusted their position somewhat" toward making a settlement.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said President Johnson was advised that the negotiators are "working hard and attempting to reconcile the differences."

There were reports earlier that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers had lowered its wage demands today for the first time since Johnson called the talks here Monday from Pittsburgh in an attempt to head off a crippling steel strike.

Johnson pressed for a major breakthrough in the emergency negotiations today and a source inside the closely guarded talks said "there's a good chance" he will get it.

But union and industry negotiators, facing a strike deadline at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, were reported still 5 to 6 cents apart — a matter of millions of dollars a year in labor costs to the industry.

The union chipped off about 1 1/2 cents from its demands, bringing the total down to slightly more than 48 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits spread over three years, said the source inside the talks.

The industry earlier had boosted its offer by nearly 2 1/2 cents to a package of about 43 cents, informed sources said.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 per hour in wages and fringe benefits.

Johnson, frustrated in his hope to fly to his Texas ranch Thursday night with at least a tentative agreement in hand, remained here awaiting a progress report from session beginning at 8 a. m.

Earlier, Johnson urged the negotiators to reach a settlement before Labor Day and told them that even a short strike could be more harmful to the nation's economy than a long recession.

Moyers said Johnson was again sending lunch to the negotiators so there would be no need for a luncheon break in the talks in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House. Thursday, Johnson kept them at it more than 15 continuous hours, sending them both lunch and dinner.

"The negotiators are working hard on particular matters," Moyers said. He said these were wages, pensions and insurance.

The negotiators, Moyers said, were dealing with "the last remaining major economic differences."

Before bringing the talks here, Johnson had strongly indicated he wanted a settlement consistent with White House guidelines that suggest a 3.2 per cent wage increase in line with annual man - hour productivity increases with no price hike.

Moyers said Johnson has made no specific recommendation of a money figure for a settlement.

Ohio Lights Bring Reports of 'UFO'

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Hundreds of people in the Tacoma area have a message for the Grimes Manufacturing Co. of Urbana, Ohio:

Thursday night, a demonstration plane equipped with eight of the lights flew over the area for 35 minutes.

Switchboards at the Pierce County Courthouse, the Tacoma News Tribune, McChord Air Force Base and elsewhere were jammed with unidentified flying object reports.

Big Viet Red Cache Found

B52 Bomb Area Yields Supplies

SAIGON, iVet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese troops found heavy stocks of Viet Cong ammunition and about 1,000 uniforms in a wooded area near Saigon churned up Thursday by a saturation bombing of B52 jets, a U.S. spokesman said today.

A reinforced company scouted the area, 20 miles north-northwest of Saigon, without running into either live opposition or finding guerrilla dead from the bombing. It was evident, however, that this 17th strike of the eight-engine Strategic Air Command craft was on target.

Guerrilla ground fire downed a troop-carrying U.S. Army helicopter on its way to the bombed area. The spokesman said there were no survivors. The number aboard was withheld for security reasons but such craft can carry from 10 to 12 men.

In the Da Nang area, about 1,400 Marines began landing Thursday night as their group commander declared: "We brought all we need to stay and fight."

The Marines, coming off four Navy vessels with their equipment, landed at Chu Lai, 50 miles south of Da Nang, the big U.S. Air base 380 miles north of Saigon.

A week ago, service rolls showed 29,800 Marines in Viet Nam. The new arrivals, bringing the figure to 31,200, are part of the continuing buildup of Marine forces in the Da Nang area.

The U.S. military manpower goal announced by President Johnson is 125,000. As of Aug. 26, the total was 90,050. This included Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard personnel.

A Marine Corps spokesman said the arriving Leathernecks are part of the Marine Corps Aircraft Group 36. Elements include three medium helicopter units along with a heavy helicopter contingent and observation craft.

Coldwater Factory Plans Expansion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A $3.7 million expansion of Avco Corp.'s New Idea Division at Coldwater, Mercer County, was announced here today.

Curry W. Stoup, president of the division, said some of the expansion is already under way, and that the major construction will start late this year.

Present facilities of more than 911,000 square feet will be modernized and a new, 306,400 square foot building will be constructed on adjoining land.

The division, largest farm equipment manufacturer in Ohio employs 1500 workers at Coldwater. Although the company said precise figures are not available, the firm plans a substantial employment increase to take place during the next few years.

Senate OKs $4.7 Billion College Scholarship Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4.7-billion higher education bill with funds for federal scholarships for needy college students has cleared the Senate by a 79-3 vote.

Sponsors of the far-reaching measure were astonished at the vote. Only three Southern Democrats, Sens. James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis of Mississippi and A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, were recorded against the bill.

It won the votes of 54 Democrats and 25 Republicans, while 15 of the absent senators were announced in favor.

The vote sent the legislation to conference with the House which passed it in different form last week. Managers say they are confident of an agreement with little difficulty.

The final version may exceed the first-year totals in both Senate and House bills. The House, sponsors say, probably will go along with Senate provisions to set up a National Teacher Corps and a program of grants to colleges to buy audio-visual equipment, while the Senate probably will accept bigger increases voted by the House for federal grants for college classroom construction.

Senate passage settles a long controversy over establishment of a federal scholarship program.

Different versions of the program are in both bills, so the final product is certain to contain some form of scholarships.

Senators interested in education legislation have won passage of this kind of aid for many years only to see the House kill it.

The Senate scholarship plan, which closely follows President Johnson's recommendation, would provide payments expected to average $500 each to about 140,000 needy students in the first year.

The student aid section of the bill, which includes about half the money, also provides for insured reduced-interest private loans and for a work-study program to enable students to earn money for their education.

A National Teachers Corps, proposed by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., is a significant provision. Some 6,000 teachers would be sent into poverty areas in the first year to improve educational opportunities for underprivileged children.

Other provisions would establish a program of university community service projects to aid urban and suburban areas, provide money to improve college libraries, authorize a new type of grants to small, developing colleges, and provide for fellowships to permit teachers to obtain graduate degrees.

The Senate bill would authorize $672 million the first year compared to about $650 million for the House. Johnson asked $250 million but he has endorsed most of the increases.

Schweitzer is suffering from severe fatigue.

Negotiators Working Hard

President Orders Continuous Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today both sides in the steel negotiations "may have actually adjusted their position somewhat" toward making a settlement.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said President Johnson was advised that the negotiators are "working hard and attempting to reconcile the differences."

There were reports earlier that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers had lowered its wage demands today for the first time since Johnson called the talks here Monday from Pittsburgh in an attempt to head off a crippling steel strike.

Johnson pressed for a major breakthrough in the emergency negotiations today and a source inside the closely guarded talks said "there's a good chance" he will get it.

But union and industry negotiators, facing a strike deadline at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, were reported still 5 to 6 cents apart — a matter of millions of dollars a year in labor costs to the industry.

The union chipped off about 1½ cents from its demands, bringing the total down to slightly more than 48 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits spread over three years, said the source inside the talks.

The industry earlier had boosted its offer by nearly 2½ cents to a package of about 43 cents, informed sources said.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 per hour in wages and fringe benefits.

Johnson, frustrated in his hope to fly to his Texas ranch Thursday night with at least a tentative agreement in hand, remained here awaiting a progress report from session beginning at 8 a. m.

Earlier, Johnson urged the negotiators to reach a settlement before Labor Day and told them that even a short strike could be more harmful to the nation's economy than a long recession.

Moyers said Johnson was again sending lunch to the negotiators so there would be no need for a luncheon break in the talks in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House. Thursday, Johnson kept them at it more than 15 continuous hours, sending them both lunch and dinner.

"The negotiators are working hard on particular matters," Moyers said. He said these were wages, pensions and insurance.

The negotiators, Moyers said, were dealing with "the last remaining major economic differences."

Before bringing the talks here, Johnson had strongly indicated he wanted a settlement consistent with White House guidelines that suggest a 3.2 percent wage increase in line with annual man-hour productivity increases with no price hike.

Moyers said Johnson has made no specific recommendation of a money figure for a settlement.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Kansas student, unhappy about President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam, slashed his own wrist and smeared blood on a campus bulletin board.

The student, Charles Hook of Glen Head, N.Y., said this rasher startling action last March was "purely spontaneous and an individual gesture." But less dramatic displays of displeasure with Johnson's decisions have become quite commonplace, though apparently reflecting only minority opinion.

This has been a year for teach-ins, sit-ins and hunger strikes, all reflecting various degrees of opposition to various presidential policies.

Johnson's public reaction generally has been restrained, but his sensitivity to almost any criticism is marked and, in private, often stormy.

Publicly, Johnson insists he welcomes democratic debate and abhors blind conformity. On those occasions when he has uttered stronger statements, he usually has criticized the press which often brings him first news of dissent and, in his view, promotes conflict by publicizing his critics.

A year ago, Johnson seemed to enjoy miraculous immunity to the barbs that all presidents encounter, usually sooner than later. When harsh words were heard, they normally fell into the category of partisan campaign utterances or dealt with such side issues as the President's automobile driving and his dog-handling practices.

However, this year has seen development of an often noisy undercurrent of minority criticism embracing such major issues as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic — plus civil rights, American representation at the Churchill funeral, Johnson's shelving of Washington visits by the leaders of India and Pakistan, and his relations with news media.

With all this, though, the polls show Johnson's standing with American voters as remained exceptionally high on all significant questions — including Viet Nam.

Criticism began soon after

Johnson was inaugurated as President in his own right. First he offended an important, if unmeasurable, portion of the populace by sending Chief Justice Earl Warren — rather than Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — to represent the United States at the London funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

Since then, restraint has been his watchword. He waited nearly six hours for example, to authorize the removal from the White House of 12 young people who staged a sit-in critical of his civil rights policies. More recently, two days elapsed before opponents of the war in Viet Nam were hauled away in paddy wagons after blocking White House entrances in a sit-down demonstration.

About two months ago, Johnson put his public reaction into words in a statement that referred indirectly to teach-ins and other displays of opposition to administration policy in Viet Nam:

"How rare is the land and extraordinary the people who freely allow, and really encourage, as I have on many occasions, the citizens of our nation to discuss and to debate their nation's policies in time of danger."

"We welcome and we ask for new ideas from serious and concerned men and women, from universities and journals and public platforms all across the land. We are constantly searching for views and proposals which might strengthen and unite and help our government."

Then he added a word about what has become his greatest concern about vocal dissidents: "Let no one ever think for a moment that national debate means national division."

Where handling of criticism is concerned, there is evidence that Johnson has grown in the presidency, despite his thin

(For Sam Dawson)

RENO, Nev. (AP) — As a Philadelphia banker, Stuart B. Webb used to spend his leisure hours fox hunting.

He's found no fox hunting since moving to Nevada to be president of the state's second largest bank.

Webb, at 40, already has filled a heart's desire by becoming top officer of the Nevada Bank of Commerce, with 13 branches throughout the state and assets of $95.6 million.

Webb was born, reared and educated in the East. He moved to Reno in April as administrative vice president and became president July 29.

Why did he come?

"I was looking for a situation that would lead to a top spot in the banking business. This one came to my attention, so I seized it. It's always been my heart's desire to be a bank president."

Webb did have some qualms about moving from the old, established eastern financial world to Nevada, the only state with casino gambling.

Casinos reported gross winnings of more than $290 million during 1964.

Casinos have an excellent cash flow, Webb says. "Their business is cash. Very little credit is involved in it. Ready short-term credit depends on the cash-flow analysis and this comes up quickly."

Nevada has a newer, lustier economy than the East, Webb says.

"As a result, I think the banks extend more credit to a particular customer than would fit the pattern in the East."

But growth has created a greater demand for capital than Nevada banks can meet, so large amount of building financing still comes from the East, Webb says.

"The attractive thing here is the high interest rate pattern. It's 20 to 25 per cent higher than in the East. We get a standard rate of 7 per cent on loans compared to 5 1/2 per cent in the East."

Webb and his wife have three children, Peter, 15; Nancy, 8, and Scott, 5.

Webb is a native of Washington, D.C., who was graduated from Lehigh University in 1950. He did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers before joining Provident National Bank in Philadelphia.

He worked his way up and then became an executive of the National Bank of Pottstown, Pa.

Helpless Passenger Is Valuable

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Some like to take the wheel in our journey through life, while others prefer to go along as passengers.

It seems to me that the role of the passenger is an important one and has its advantages.

The function of the passenger is to serve as the audience for the actors of this world.

The actors are the people who drive cars, sail boats, buy houses in the country. They surround themselves with expensive toys, and like any child with a new toy they are never quite happy alone.

They must show their toys off to somebody. That is where the passenger comes in. His job is to praise the new toys and the skill with which their owner plays with them.

That is his whole job, and he must do nothing more if he is a conscientious passenger. Let me illustrate.

Recently I accepted an invitation to go for a cruise with a man who had just bought an expensive sailboat. There were just the two of us aboard.

During those four days I never asked to steer the boat or offered to reef or unreef a sail or perform a helpful chore of any kind.

At the end of our cruise my host said to me with that faint note of hostility that creeps ultimately into every host's voice:

"You know, you're really just an eternal passenger. You've made a career of being helpless. You don't know how to do anything, and what is more you don't even want to learn how to do anything."

His ingratitude rather annoyed me. So I endeavored to set him straight.

"You are implying that there is no difference between a passenger and a barnacle," I told him. "But there is. A barnacle is merely an inactive hitchhiker."

A DAR official called the girl "shocking caricatures" of the national flag. They shaped up that bad.

The United States flag Foundation suggests the girl be dyed black and resold. Anybody want girlies the DAR says aren't fitting?

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

What are the simple, inexpensive foods that contain the most vitamins?

Mrs. K. L., Nebraska

Vitamin A content is high in milk, spinach, egg yolk, lettuce, green beans, carrots, yellow sweet potatoes, broccoli, peaches and apricots. Vitamin A is important for growth and for the prevention of night blindness. It is thought that it may reduce susceptibility to infection.

Vitamin B complex has many subdivisions, such as thiamine, niacin, B12, and riboflavin. They are important in many body processes. They are used to control pernicious anemia and to prevent and cure the nutritional diseases beri-beri and pellagra.

The best source of vitamin B complex is dried brewer's yeast, milk, liver, lean meats, fish, chicken, kidneys, peanuts, beets and turnip greens.

Vitamin C, the anti-scurvy vitamin, has many uses in the body. Its best sources are the citrus fruits, lemons, oranges, limes and grapefruits. Other fruits, too, have high vitamin C content.

Vitamin D prevents the severe malnutrition disease, Rickets. The body manufactures its own vitamin D when the skin is exposed to sunlight. Vitamin D is high in fish, liver oils, eggs, dairy products and milk.

A balanced diet that contains these foods will also have sufficient vitamins E, K, Folic acid, and the important minerals.

What is the difference between natural and acquired immunity to disease?

Mr. A. S., Ohio

A natural immunity against disease is a hereditary one. People are born with more or less immunity to some diseases because of their race differences, geography, altitudes and resistance to some infections. Some races have a greater susceptibility to disease than others.

For example, heart disease and high blood pressure are far more common in the United States than in some African countries. Strangely, Orientals are known to develop a type of tumor of the back of the nose more often than the Occidentals. There are many more bizarre and yet unexplained characteristics of natural immunity.

Acquired immunity is the opposite of natural immunity. It can come to the child through the mother's defenses during her pregnancy. A newborn child with such temporary acquired immunity must soon be vaccinated for greater safety.

Immunity can also be acquired by having the disease itself. Mumps, chicken pox and other childhood diseases usually produce a permanent acquired immunity. Some diseases like the common cold never produce immunity.

The creation of new vaccines is a constant target for research. It is hoped that a vaccine for leukemia and even some forms of cancer may bring acquired immunity, to join the ranks of the vaccines now available against polio, measles and other infectious diseases.

Helpless Passenger Is Valuable

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Some like to take the wheel in our journey through life, while others prefer to go along as passengers.

It seems to me that the role of the passenger is an important one and has its advantages.

The function of the passenger is to serve as the audience for the actors of this world.

The actors are the people who drive cars, sail boats, buy houses in the country. They surround themselves with expensive toys, and like any child with a new toy they are never quite happy alone.

They must show their toys off to somebody. That is where the passenger comes in. His job is to praise the new toys and the skill with which their owner plays with them.

That is his whole job, and he must do nothing more if he is a conscientious passenger. Let me illustrate.

Recently I accepted an invitation to go for a cruise with a man who had just bought an expensive sailboat. There were just the two of us aboard.

During those four days I never asked to steer the boat or offered to reef or unreef a sail or perform a helpful chore of any kind.

At the end of our cruise my host said to me with that faint note of hostility that creeps ultimately into every host's voice:

"You know, you're really just an eternal passenger. You've made a career of being helpless. You don't know how to do anything, and what is more you don't even want to learn how to do anything."

His ingratitude rather annoyed me. So I endeavored to set him straight.

"You are implying that there is no difference between a passenger and a barnacle," I told him. "But there is. A barnacle is merely an inactive hitchhiker."

A girder called "Stars 'n Stripes" was withdrawn from the market on protests of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Somebody's snap judgment, probably.

A DAR official called the girdles "shocking caricatures" of the national flag. They shaped up that bad.

The United States flag Foundation suggests the girdles be dyed black and resold. Anybody want girdles the DAR says aren't fitting?

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What are the simple, inexpensive foods that contain the most vitamins?

Mrs. K. L., Nebraska

Vitamin A content is high in milk, spinach, egg yolk, lettuce, green beans, carrots, yellow sweet potatoes, broccoli, peaches and apricots. Vitamin A is important for growth and for the prevention of night blindness. It is thought that it may reduce susceptibility to infection.

Vitamin B complex has many subdivisions, such as thiamine, niacin, B12, and riboflavin. They are important in many body processes. They are used to control pernicious anemia and to prevent and cure the nutritional diseases beri-beri and pellagra.

The best source of vitamin B complex is dried brewer's yeast, milk, liver, lean meats, fish, chicken, kidneys, peanuts, beets and turnip greens.

Vitamin C, the anti-scurvy vitamin, has many uses in the body. Its best sources are the citrus fruits, lemons, oranges, limes and grapefruits. Other fruits, too, have high vitamin C content.

Vitamin D prevents the severe malnutritional disease, Rickets. The body manufactures its own vitamin D when the skin is exposed to sunlight. Vitamin D is high in fish, liver oils, eggs, dairy products and milk.

A balanced diet that contains these foods will also have sufficient vitamins E, K, Folic acid, and the important minerals.

What is the difference between natural and acquired immunity to disease?

Mr. A. S., Ohio

A natural immunity against disease is a hereditary one. People are born with more or less immunity to some diseases because of their race differences, geography, altitudes and resistance to some infections. Some races have a greater susceptibility to disease than others.

For example, heart disease and high blood pressure are far more common in the United States than in some African countries. Strangely, Orientals are known to develop a type of tumor of the back of the nose more often than the Occidental. There are many more bizarre and yet unexplained characteristics of natural immunity.

Acquired immunity is the opposite of natural immunity. It can come to the child through the mother's defenses during pregnancy. A newborn child with such temporary acquired immunity must soon be vaccinated for greater safety.

Immunity can also be acquired by having the disease itself. Mumps, chicken pox and other childhood diseases usually produce a permanent acquired immunity. Some diseases like the common cold never produce immunity.

The creation of new vaccines is a constant target for research. It is hoped that a vaccine for leukemia and even some forms of cancer may bring acquired immunity, to join the ranks of the vaccines now available against polio, measles and other infectious diseases.

From time to time I have written columns about a mythical Foreign Minister of Ruritania, putting words into his mouth which, to me, convey the more common - sensical views of international relations. I never thought to run into the Foreign Minister of Ruritania in the flesh, but not so long ago I did meet him, at a party in New York City. Only he wasn't a mythical diplomat from a make-believe land, he was a very real person named Thanat Khoman, the Foreign Minister of Thailand.

Thanat Khoman, who will be in this country in the autumn when the United Nations once again comes out from under wraps, is a man of salty wit who speaks a most colloquial English. If there is any movement to promote a phony peace in Southeast Asia that will only serve as a cover for continued Communist expansion, you may be sure that Thanat Khoman will raise a most realistic voice against it.

This man, who carries the fate of Thailand on his weary back, sees through the Communists as most of us, in our soft and easy-living land, do not. It might embarrass him if I were to quote him directly on certain American commentaries who argue that Southeast Asia is outside our "sphere of influence" and who say that we cannot "police the world." But Thanat Khoman's own questioning about the universalist drive of the Communists cuts sharply through the nonsense that we shall very likely hear this autumn at the "teach-ins" which the forces of the Left are now planning for scores of college campuses. "Have you ever heard anywhere," so Thanat Khoman asks, "of any Communist power, be it from Asia or from Europe, recognizing that the free world, the western world, has a sphere of influence? In this world we cannot expect the Communists to recognize any American sphere of influence or any British sphere of influence, or any French sphere of influence. They consider the whole world their sphere of influence. We have seen it in Africa, in Latin America, not to speak about Asia."

Thanat Khoman served in the underground during the time of the Japanese occupation of his country. Thailand, of course, had been the one nation of Southeast Asia never subjected to European colonial occupation during the nineteenth century. It had become used to freedom, and Thanat Khoman was fiercely outraged when Japan, an Oriental nation, succeeded in turning Thailand (which means "land of the free") into a conquered province where all the powers of Europe had failed. He is just as much outraged now when he hears complacent voices saying that the freedom of Southeast Asia is no concern of the West.

"The problem," he says, "is one of peace and survival. We in Thailand have no place to retreat."

treat. So we shall make our first stand and our last stand there."

The Red Chinese have already declared war on Thailand, in Thanat Khoman's opinion. He points to the statement made by the Chinese Foreign Minister, Chen Yi, that guerrilla warfare would be wracking Thailand by this autumn. Thanat Khoman admits that his country has always had a bandit problem in its less civilized reaches. The northeastern part of Thailand is particularly wild and rugged. But banditry does not explain the emergence in Thailand of "traders" who have come from across the Mekong River, infiltrating through the paddy land. It does not explain the rise of something called "the patriotic front of Thailand," which is a carbon copy of the National Liberation Front in South Vietnam.

Before he left New York for a tour of the United States last May, Thanat Khoman scoffed at the idea that this country might be pushed out of South Vietnam. He had a low opinion of the power that the Viet Cong, the North Vietnamese, or even the Red Chinese might be able to mass against America. "They don't know a darned thing about it," he said of those who were preaching that the United States was overextended in Southeast Asia. This, of course, is not what you hear at the teach-ins. But Thanat Khoman's voice is that of a realist. It's too bad that protocol won't let him become part of the university lecture circuit when the peddlers of delusion get going on Lyndon Johnson's foreign policy in the coming academic year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a new experience for President Johnson, and not a pleasant one. This man, who works wonders with Democrats and some Republicans in Congress, can phone them, visit them, have them to dinner, coax, cajole, wheedle and weld when he wants a bill passed.

After almost 30 years of dealing with them Johnson is an expert on the mind, resistance, interests, inclinations, vanities or inanities of a senator.

"Let us reason together," he says, and they listen. But dealing with Communists — particularly Asian Communists — is new for him, and they're not listening. He talks peace and they deride him.

And apparently he is even having trouble getting through to an Asian ally, the head man in South Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, for whose people the United States is fighting a war.

For a couple of weeks now — while American bombers plastered the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam and the Communists in North Viet Nam — the Johnson administration has made extraordinary gestures toward peace talks.

It issued a "white paper" on Viet Nam aimed at justifying the American involvement there. It put three of its top men, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, on television to explain the American opinion.

Rusk held a news conference explaining some more. Johnson held a news conference where he talked of "peace — peace, that simple little five-letter word," which he called the most important word in the English language.

And this week Mike Mansfield of Montana, leader of the Senate Democrats, made a speech summarizing the American conditions for a peaceful settlement. The White House made it clear the speech had Johnson's blessing beforehand.

And what happened? The North Vietnamese scoffed at the American peace officers, saying once more they were prepared to fight a 20-year war in Viet Nam.

They had scoffed before, too, suggesting Johnson was a fraud and that his proposals smelled of "poison gas." And North Viet Nam's president, Ho Chi Minh, reportedly described Johnson's policies as the "daydream of a madman."

Johnson, a persistent man, undoubtedly will continue to try to talk the North Vietnamese into thinking it might be better to desist while he steps up the bombing to weaken their will to resist.

To avoid a paralyzing strike, Johnson brought the steel industry's union and management to Washington where he can put the pressure on them personally

South Viet Intellectuals Are Agitated by Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In this important anniversary week for North Viet Nam, its regime acts like a gambler reaching for the ace up his sleeve—the potential for trouble among influential Buddhists and intellectuals in South Viet Nam.

The North's propaganda hammers at this restlessness in an obvious attempt to activate and enlarge a political warfront in the South's cities, thus "attacking the enemy's rear" in support of Communist forces.

The success of the effort would depend upon the extent to which Communist agents have infiltrated and influenced the South's restive elements.

Exactly 20 years ago, Sept. 2, 1945, Ho Chi Minh appeared in Hanoi's Ba Dinh Square and proclaimed a "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam." The event heralded two decades of warfare in Indochina.

In many Western eyes at the time, "Uncle Ho" was a nationalist patriot and reformer, a fighter against the Japanese wartime occupation and against the returning French colonial power. Today, North Vietnamese propaganda describes Ho's strategy of that time as "clever association of the experiences of the Russian October revolution and those of the Chinese revolution."

North Viet Nam's Communists call the events leading to the Sept. 2 proclamation "the August revolution." A little more than a week ago they directed propaganda appeals to their collaborators and sympathizers in the South to adopt the same tactics.

It may be just coincidence, but the past week brought a rash of demonstrations in the South similar to the one in Hue over the weekend involving 3,000 Buddhists and another at Da Nang, where the U.S. Marines have their most important base. There are also evidences of resurgent student restlessness in Saigon.

Hanoi's propaganda urges Communists and their sympathizers to exploit all possibilities, "political, military, economic and cultural."

Like Mao Tse-tung's Communist revolution in China, the Vietnamese one began in rural areas. Hanoi's spokesmen say the Viet Cong now control four-fifths of the countryside and 10 million people. Thus, they find it is time to bring the war to the cities in whatever forms possible.

U.S. Excess Property To Be Given to CARE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal excess property which originally cost $2 million is to be used to support work in Viet Nam, Malaysia and the Philippines by the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere—CARE.

The U.S. Agency for International Development says the goods include vehicles, agricultural machinery, water purification and sewage treatment apparatus, food preparation and serving equipment, clothing, and plumbing, heating and sanitation materials.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 3, the 246th day of 1965. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1609, Henry Hudson's Half Moon rounded Sandy Hook on a voyage from England which had begun in April. Seeking a northwest passage to Asia, Hudson sailed up their river which bears his name to the vicinity of what now is Troy, N.Y.

On this date:

In 1783, the Treaty of Paris was signed, ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1894, Labor Day was observed throughout the nation for the first time after being designated a legal holiday by Congress.

Also in 1894, the first medal play golf championship was started at Newport, R.I.

In 1919, the permanent rank of general was given John J. Pershing.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany following the Nazi invasion of Poland.

Ten years ago — Albania and Poland announced reductions in their armed forces, following a similar decision by Russia.

Five years ago — India reported that at least 55 persons dead in Punjab floods.

One year ago — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy resigned his Cabinet post to campaign for U.S. senator from New York.

Janitor Takes Pay Cut To Be Teacher

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. in 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

They had scoffed before, too, suggesting Johnson was a fraud and that his proposals smelled of "poison gas." And North Viet Nam's president, Ho Chi Minh, reportedly described Johnson's policies as the "daydream of a madman."

Johnson, a persistent man, undoubtedly will continue to try to talk the North Vietnamese into thinking it might be better to desist while he steps up the bombing to weaken their will to resist.

To avoid a paralyzing strike, Johnson brought the steel industry's union and management to Washington where he can put the pressure on them personally to reach a settlement.

But he's new in foreign affairs, has never met the North Vietnamese Reds, can't command them and can put no pressure on them except with bombs, which in their case may or may not be persuasive.

Since South Viet Nam probably couldn't last a week without American help, it may have been a shock to Johnson to learn about the interview which South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky gave the New York Times.

He said South Viet Nam is "not ready now" to begin peace negotiations unless there are solid guarantees Red troops would be pulled back to North Viet Nam while American troops stayed in South Viet Nam until Ky's government asked them to leave.

Johnson had been trying to convince the Reds the United States would be willing to begin peace talks without any previous conditions, although this doesn't mean it would agree to peace without a number of conditions.

But the North Vietnamese had already declared there should be no peace without full withdrawal of American troops. So they seem to be talking one way, Ky another way, and Johnson a third way.

The 35-year-old Ky is a strong-willed man. And if he doesn't see eye to eye with the United States on how to have peace, the whole business gets fouled up double, which raises unpleasant memories.

The United States had no end of conflict with President Ngo Dinh Diem until he was overthrown and killed, and its relations with some of his successors have been rocky, although none could survive without the United States.

South Viet Intellectuals Are Agitated by Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In this important anniversary week for North Viet Nam, its regime acts like a gambler reaching for the ace up his sleeve—the potential for trouble among influential Buddhists and intellectuals in South Viet Nam.

The North's propaganda hammers at this restlessness in an obvious attempt to activate and enlarge a political warfront in the South's cities, thus "attacking the enemy's rear" in support of Communist forces.

The success of the effort would depend upon the extent to which Communist agents have infiltrated and influenced the South's restive elements.

Exactly 20 years ago, Sept. 2, 1945, Ho Chi Minh appeared in Hanoi's Ba Dinh Square and proclaimed a "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam." The event heralded two decades of warfare in Indochina.

In many Western eyes at the time, "Uncle Ho" was a nationalist patriot and reformer, a fighter against the Japanese wartime occupation and against the returning French colonial power. Today, North Vietnamese propaganda describes Ho's strategy of that time as "clever association of the experiences of the Russian October revolution and those of the Chinese revolution."

North Viet Nam's Communists call the events leading to the Sept. 2 proclamation "the August revolution." A little more than a week ago they directed propaganda appeals to their collaborators and sympathizers in the South to adopt the same tactics.

It may be just coincidence, but the past week brought a rash of demonstrations in the South similar to the one in Hue over the weekend involving 3,000 Buddhists and another at Da Nang, where the U.S. Marines have their most important base. There are also evidences of resurgent student restlessness in Saigon.

Hanoi's propaganda urges Communists and their sympathizers to exploit all possibilities, "political, military, economic and cultural."

Like Mao Tze-tung's Communist revolution in China, the Vietnamese one began in rural areas. Hanoi's spokesmen say the Viet Cong now control four-fifths of the countryside and 10 million people. Thus, they find it is time to bring the war to the cities in whatever forms possible.

U.S. Excess Property To Be Given to CARE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal excess property which originally cost $2 million is to be used to support work in Viet Nam, Malaysia and the Philippines by the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere—CARE.

The U.S. Agency for International Development says the goods include vehicles, agricultural machinery, water purification and sewage treatment apparatus, food preparation and serving equipment, clothing, and plumbing, heating and sanitation materials.

Rhodes OKs Bill To Lure Brewery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law Thursday a measure aimed at attracting a $50 million brewery into central Ohio. The measure permits on premises sale of beer and liquor, a feature requested by which has taken option on a tract of land in suburban Worthington.

Also signed by the governor was a $278 million capital improvements bill including funds for construction and expansion of state buildings and properties and education.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, Sept. 3, the 246th day of 1965. There are 119 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1609, Henry Hudson's Half Moon rounded Sandy Hook on a voyage from England which had begun in April. Seeking a northwest passage to Asia, Hudson sailed up their river which bears his name to the vicinity of what now is Troy, N.Y.

On this date: In 1783, the Treaty of Paris was signed, ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1894, Labor Day was observed throughout the nation for the first time after being designated a legal holiday by Congress.

Also in 1894, the first medal play golf championship was started at Newport, R.I.

In 1919, the permanent rank of general was given John J. Pershing.

In 1939, Britain and France declared war on Germany following the Nazi invasion of Poland.

Ten years ago — Albania and Poland announced reductions in their armed forces, following a similar decision by Russia.

Five years ago — India reported that at least 55 persons died in Punjab floods.

Janitor Takes Pay Cut To Be Teacher

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

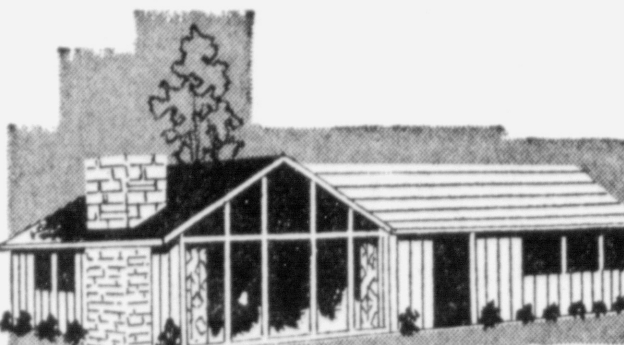

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. In 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Mahaffeys

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Ashville, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a family dinner at the Wardell Party Home. In the afternoon a reception was held at their residence.

Mr. Mahaffey and Elizabeth Faye McNeil were united in marriage Aug. 25, 1915, in West Union, O.

Mr. Mahaffey has been engaged in the teaching profession for many years. He was graduated from high school in West Union, from Wilmington College and did graduate work at both Ohio University and Ohio State University. He first taught in Liberty Township, Adams County, and then in the West Union High School.

In 1940 he became a teacher in the Ashville School System where he taught Manual Arts and Science in the high school. He later became supervising principal of the school and retired in 1961.

He is a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge in Lockbourne and a member of the Chapter, Council and Commandery in Circleville.

Mrs. Mahaffey is a member of the Circleville Chapter No. 90 of Eastern Star and also a member of the Pickaway County DAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey are members of the Ashville Methodist Church where he is a teacher in the Church School.

Among the guests attending the dinner and reception were the honored guests' three children and families: Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Mahaffey, and children, Judy, Susan and Jimmy, Madison, Wisc.; William Mahaffey, ADJ-3 Meram, N.A.S. San Diego, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Snyder (Jean Mahaffey) and children, Ellen, Janet and Karl, Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Mahaffey, and children, Carol, Doris, David and Mark, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey and family were honored guests of the Scioto Valley Grange at their last meeting. Their family and members of the grange enjoyed a carry-in dinner. Festive gold decorations and yellow and orange flowers carried out the 50th anniversary theme.

Picnic, Meet Conducted by Adelphi WSCS

The Adelphi WSCS held an all-day meeting at the church. Following a picnic lunch at noon, Mrs. Oleda Bowsher led the group in the worship service and the program concerning discipline in the home, church, and community.

During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Judson Beougher there was a discussion concerning the annual tea and bazaar the group is planning to hold in November.

Mrs. Alan Hubbell, secretary of supply, read a communication asking for contributions to foreign missions in Mexico and home missions in Chicago. These were approved by the society.

Due to a conflict with another church meeting, the next meeting will be held Sept. 29 at the home of Mrs. Thelma Congrove.

Church Members Honor Wileys On Anniversary

Members of the First Baptist Church honored their pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Wiley, with a surprise supper Tuesday evening at the church in honor of their 21st wedding anniversary and their 3rd anniversary with the church. The event was sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union.

A highlight of the evening was when Mrs. Bill McKinney and Mrs. Tom Wagner presented the couple with a large picture book depicting their courtship and marriage. The book was put on display and read aloud.

Hal Spencer led the group in singing.

The Wileys were presented with a white milk glass serving set.

Anniversary Observed by WSCS Members

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held its first meeting of the fall season Wednesday evening in the church parlor.

As a tribute to the 25th anniversary of the society and its members a special program was arranged by members of Circle No. 4.

Mrs. H. Southward, president, welcomed the group. Mrs. Donald Archer was narrator for the evening. Flowers were presented to the eight past presidents in attendance. Mrs. Paul Johnson read the minutes of the original charter meeting and 33 charter members were present.

A candle ceremony depicting the projects and progress under each of the presidents was conducted by Mrs. Archer.

Mrs. Walter Heine concluded the celebration by leading devotions.

Prior to the program Mrs. George Meyers and members of her circle served refreshments. The table was decorated in crystal and white.

Sorority To Meet

A business meeting will be held by Sigma Phi Gamma 8 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Chalfin, 521 Forest Drive.

Election Scheduled By Practical Nurses

Dear Abby: Check the Coffemaker!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both 52 years old. We have been married a short time. This is the second marriage for both of us. My problem is that my husband can't seem to get enough of a certain neighborhood restaurant. I fix him a good breakfast every morning, and all the coffee he wants, but he has to leave the house 45 minutes early so he can stop in to this restaurant for "coffee."

He has his lunch at the same restaurant, but almost every night after work, before coming home, he stops in there again "for a cup of coffee." Now I don't care how much coffee he drinks, or how often, but I don't like the way he hangs around that restaurant all the time. His friends "kid" me about it and I never know what to say. Am I out of line for being annoyed about it? How should this be handled?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Delicately. Drop into the restaurant one of these days and find out what draws the customers. But don't expect to find it on the menu.

DEAR ABBY: I became engaged to a boy just before he went into the service. When I accepted his ring, I told him I wouldn't date other boys. I really thought I loved him. Well, after he left I felt like maybe I should date other boys just to make sure I liked him well enough to marry him. So I wrote him a letter telling him that I had decided to date other boys. My mother thinks I did wrong. Don't you think writing and telling him about it was wiser than dating behind his back?

MIXED-UP

DEAR MIXED-UP: You speak of dating behind your fiancé's back, or dating and telling him, as though they were the only alternatives. How about keeping your promise NOT to date at all? I agree, you should be sure before marrying a man that he is the right one. But your mistake was accepting his ring BEFORE you were sure. Boys in the service have enough to worry about without girls like you. Your mother was right.

DEAR ABBY: My best buddy is getting married and has asked me to be his best man. I have said I would. He and his fiancée are planning a real fancy bash in church with rented jackets and the works. Now my buddy has told me that his fiancée said if I wanted to be the best man I would have to shave my beard. I am very proud of my beard, Abby. It's not the kind that grows every which way. I keep it neatly trimmed and uniform. Abby, I don't want to shave off my beard, but

DEAR ANNOYED: Delicately. Drop into the restaurant one of these days and find out what draws the customers. But don't expect to find it on the menu.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both 52 years old. We have been married a short time. This is the second marriage for both of us. My problem is that my husband can't seem to get enough of a certain neighborhood restaurant. I fix him a good breakfast every morning, and all the coffee he wants, but he has to leave the house 45 minutes early so he can stop in to this restaurant for "coffee."

He has his lunch at the same restaurant, but almost every night after work, before coming home, he stops in there again "for a cup of coffee." Now I don't care how much coffee he drinks, or how often, but I don't like the way he hangs around that restaurant all the time. His friends "kid" me about it and I never know what to say. Am I out of line for being annoyed about it? How should this be handled?

Sewer Gas Kills Three State Aides

CLEVELAND (AP) — Deadly sewer gas claimed the lives of three State Highway Department workers Thursday. Two of the men died in rescue attempts.

Dead are Kenneth J. Novitch Sr., 32, of Parma, Dale A. Pirol, 25, of Cleveland and John D. Hanley, 21, of Lakewood.

The three were part of a four-man survey team trying to get water samples from a storm sewer near the Interstate 71 project on Cleveland's southwest side.

Novitch entered the manhole first and went down 15 to 20 feet when the other two heard a splash and saw him collapse in the water. Hanley then entered to save Novitch and Pirol followed when Hanley also collapsed.

The fourth crewman, Gary Marsh, 21, of Garfield Heights, ran to get a rope. An ironworker on a job nearby, Sam Subers, the peace. Thank God, my wife is home now and in good health, but I wish you would print this for all husbands who take their wives for granted, as I did. They should kiss their feet!

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Mahaffeys

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Ashville, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a family dinner at the Wardell Party Home. In the afternoon a reception was held at their residence.

Mr. Mahaffey and Elizabeth Faye McNeil were united in marriage Aug. 25, 1915, in West Union, O.

Mr. Mahaffey has been engaged in the teaching profession for many years. He was graduated from high school in West Union, from Wilmington College and did graduate work at both Ohio University and Ohio State University. He first taught in Liberty Township, Adams County, and then in the West Union High School.

In 1940 he became a teacher in the Ashville School System where he taught Manual Arts and Science in the high school. He later became supervising principal of the school and retired in 1961.

He is a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge in Lockbourne and a member of the Chapter No. 90 of Eastern Star and also a member of the Pickaway County DAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey are members of the Ashville Methodist Church where he is a teacher in the Church School.

Among the guests attending the dinner and reception were the honored guests' three children and families: Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Mahaffey, and children, Judy, Susan and Jimmy, Madison, Wisc.; William Mahaffey, ADJ-3 Meram-er, N.A.S. San Diego, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Snyder (Jean Mahaffey) and children, Ellen, Janet and Karl, Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Mahaffey, and children, Carol, Doris, David and Mark, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey and family were honored guests of the Scioto Valley Grange at their last meeting. Their family and members of the grange enjoyed a carry-in dinner. Festive gold decorations and yellow and orange flowers carried out the 50th anniversary theme.

Church Members Honor Wileys On Anniversary

Members of the First Baptist Church honored their pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Wiley, with a surprise supper Tuesday evening at the church in honor of their 21st wedding anniversary and their 3rd anniversary with the church. The event was sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union.

A highlight of the evening was when Mrs. Bill McKinney and Mrs. Tom Wagner presented the couple with a large picture book depicting their courtship and marriage. The book was put on display and read aloud.

Hal Spencer led the group in singing. The Wileys were presented with a white milk glass serving set.

Anniversary Observed by WSCS Members

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held its first meeting of the fall season Wednesday evening in the church parlor.

As a tribute to the 25th anniversary of the society and its members a special program was arranged by members of Circle No. 4.

Mrs. H. Southward, president, welcomed the group. Mrs. Donald Archer was narrator for the evening. Flowers were presented to the eight past presidents in attendance. Mrs. Paul Johnson read the minutes of the original charter meeting and 33 charter members were present.

A candle ceremony depicting the projects and progress under each of the presidents was conducted by Mrs. Archer. Mrs. Walter Heine concluded the celebration by leading devotions.

Prior to the program Mrs. George Meyers and members of her circle served refreshments. The table was decorated in crystal and white.

Sorority To Meet

A business meeting will be held by Sigma Phi Gamma 8 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Chalfin, 521 Forest Drive.

Election Scheduled By Practical Nurses

Division 12, Practical Nurse Assn. of Ohio will hold its annual elections of officers 6:30-8 p. m. Sept. 14 in the YWCA, 65 S. Fourth St., Columbus.

Cream cheese to which grated orange rind has been added makes an excellent filling for slices of nut bread.

Wife Preservers

A short business meeting followed. Marlene Pritchard, president, appointed Eleanor Strawser, chairman of the Miss Pumpkin Show parade, with Jane Stevelson and Penny Dewey to serve on her committee. Tentative plans for the Pumpkin Show were made.

DEAR ABBY: I became engaged to a boy just before he went into the service. When I accepted his ring, I told him I wouldn't date other boys. I really thought I loved him. Well, after he left I felt like maybe I should date other boys just to make sure I liked him well enough to marry him. So I wrote him a letter telling him that I had decided to date other boys. My mother thinks I did wrong. Don't you think writing and telling him about it was wiser than dating behind his back?

DEAR ABBY: My best buddy is getting married and has asked me to be his best man. I have said I would. He and his fiancée are planning a real fancy bash in church with rented jackets and the works. Now my buddy has told me that his fiancée said if I wanted to be the best man I would have to shave my beard. I am very proud of my beard, Abby. It's not the kind that grows every which way. I keep it neatly trimmed and uniform. Abby, I don't want to shave off my beard, but

Highway Slaughter Now Commonplace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So swift, so smooth, so pleasantly the car absorbs the miles. Power surges beneath that foot pedal. The hands rest lightly on the wheel. The highway calls. The engine purrs.

And then it happens—screaming rubber, helplessness, smashing steel and glass and death.

It hardly makes the headlines. It is an everyday affair. It becomes more common as the roads spread and the car-swarm thickens.

Take one day, an ordinary 24 hours, a Monday, Aug. 9. Barely had the day begun, in the dark, slumbrous stillness after midnight, when a young Hawarden, Iowa, husband, Walter Busch, 25, hastened his wife of 21 out to their car. She was in labor of childbirth.

They headed toward a hospital in Hudson S.D., 50 miles away. Tense, hurrying, he swung north on highway 46. Rounding a curve, he veered onto a bypass, where a south-bound car had halted at a stop sign.

He hit it, headon, only six miles from home. Soon afterward his injured wife delivered and son. But the newborn died. And so did she, before the sun came up.

A common curtain had risen on a common day. And when it had fallen, the figures for the dead were 56 adults, 25 teen-agers, 10 children, two babies.

A comparatively moderate number—93—for a day, as the cumulative count pushes toward 50,000 for 1965.

The number has risen 3.4 per cent annually for the last decade. It was 38,426 in 1955. Last year, 47,700 were killed, 3.8 million injured. And the toll mounts, the traveling increases and the vehicles multiply.

The details for Aug. 9, as assembled by The Associated Press from across the nation, offers a precautionary preview to another Monday, Sept. 6, Labor Day, and its adjoining weekend.

Back on Aug. 9, the common day, in Dayton, Ohio, Sgt. Frank Hocky of the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department was at a pistol range, getting some target practice, when he received an anxious telephone call from his wife.

Their son, Dennis, 9, was out on his bicycle somewhere, she had not seen him for several hours, it was after sunset and she had heard a radio report of an accident involving a boy on a bicycle.

Don't worry, her husband sought to reassure her. After all, he had handled many accident investigations and had impressed their son with safety rules. Anyhow, he'd check.

In a hospital, a young unidentified boy lay unconscious. He had been walking his bike across a busy highway when a pickup truck hit him. Sgt. Hockey, making his checks, located the victim. It was Dennis, by then dead.

It was a customary day.

It had its customary traffic, its customary lapses, its uncontrolled speed, its surprise intersections, its weary eyes, darting children, failing tires, sharp curves, slick pavement and blind passing.

Sometimes the cause is known and sometimes, as then, much is mystery. Whatever the reason, it kept happening that day, an unceasing succession.

In Georgia, 10 lives; California, 9; Michigan, 6; Illinois, 5; Pennsylvania, 4 each; Indiana, Kentucky, Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Virginia and Washington 3 each.

Six states—Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Ohio—had 2 each; 12 had one apiece, and 16 others had none; scattered zones of respite—for a day.

Filled with fresh love and hope, a pair of Union Lake, Mich., newlyweds, Vincent Edward Ruggers, 26, and his bride Kenneth Lee 22, had been honeymooning for a week at a lake area cottage.

They attended a movie at nearby Harbor Beach then started the drive back to their honeymoon cottage. For an unexplained reason—A kiss? A diverting word? Their car evidently strayed across the middle line.

It was hit broadside by an oncoming car driven by Ronald James Wroubel, 24, of Pontiac, Mich. He had been on his way with two teen-age youths to pick up his wife at Harbor Beach to go to a fair.

He was charged with driving with a license previously revoked. Both he and the two youths with him were hospitalized.

So was Ruggers. And his wife

for a week was dead—one of the 93.

As the National Safety Council gauges the country's fatal auto accidents, 12.5 per cent are due to hazardous conditions of nature—such as rain or fog—and 87.5 per cent result from human or mechanical faults.

Nearly half involve drinking drivers, raising questions of moral responsibility.

Speeding, the analytical tabulations say, is the most common factor in automobile casualties. Passing without sufficient clearance comes next.

"He apparently failed to see the approaching truck as he pulled out to pass another car." That was the explanation given about Robert Kozak, 23, a Sonoma, Calif., machinist.

He was on his way to work at the Kaiser Steel Co. in Napa. The big cab of the oncoming truck-trailer loomed ahead for a fearful instant—before it barreled over the top of Kozak's small car, killing him.

Anti-Garbage Dumping Campaign Said Working

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Washoe County's get-tough policy on garbage dumpers is working.

Sheriff C. W. Young said illegal dumping has almost disappeared. The county recently adopted a $100 minimum fine for dumping in unauthorized areas. A special plainclothes deputy was hired to be on the lookout.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Starting time for network television's great sweepstakes is a little more than a week away, a horse race in every way but one the winners will not be really known until some time in November.

For the first time, the three major networks will line up all their new and returning shows at the post for a simultaneous start. Procedure in other years has been for each network to appropriate one September week as its own premiere period.

How will NBC's "The Wackiest Ship in the Army?" do against CBS' "Candid Camera" and "What's My Line?" which have held the Sunday night rail position in the Nielsen ratings for several seasons? Does ABC's "Legend of Jesse James" have a chance pitted against such veteran ratings champs as "The Lucy Show" on CBS and "Dr. Kildare" on NBC?

Two weeks from tonight, viewers are going to be forced to make a blind choice among three shows making their debuts at the same time. The longest odds, of course, benefit the new entries placed in competition with last year's winners — the shows pitted against NBC's "Bonanza," CBS' "Gomer Pyle" and ABC's "Bewitched," to mention the three series which last year won, placed and showed in most of the Nielsen results.

Post-position handicapping, however, can be as dangerous as any other method of picking TV winners. Thus, there is always a chance that this year's "Gidget" can wind up in front of "Beverly Hillsbillies," or "Honey West" can overtake "Gomer Pyle" — not much of a chance, but it is always an interesting bet.

Series actors worry almost as much about the position of their shows in the network schedule as they do about their lines. One of the seasons big threats is ABC's "Peyton Place," which has recently been expanded to three episodes a week — with every one listed on the Nielsen top-10 chart.

Network executives, whose fate hangs on the Nielsen reports of audience interest, expect it will take the audience several weeks to look over the entries and place their viewing bets—so the early November results will be the only ones that really pay off.

Overlooked in Hospital

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — A Health Ministry official touring Anuradhapura Hospital was approached by a monk who claimed he had received no treatment since being admitted two weeks earlier. Investigation showed doctors decided the day the monk was admitted that he needed no treatment. But no one told him he could leave.

Seats for Women

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — All city buses are to have three seats reserved for women, an arrangement intended to provide relief to expectant mothers and women carrying children with them.

Leslie Hines, realtor and auctioneer of Hines Realty, attended a public hearing on Aug. 30, in Columbus, regarding the operations of auctioneers and apprentices in Ohio.

The new regulations require that all auction houses obtain a license and be bonded after Sept. 15. All auctioneers and auction houses must execute three copies of the sales contract with the client and retain one copy for a period of two years. Apprentices must carry their own bond after this date.

Examination: given in January, April, July and October will be 70 per cent written and 30 per cent oral. All auctioneers who have not been licensed since January 1964 will be required to take this examination. Application must be accompanied by a $3,000 bond and $25 filing fee.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Starting time for network television's great sweepstakes is a little more than a week away, a horse race in every way but one the winners will not be really known until some time in November.

For the first time, the three major networks will line up all their new and returning shows at the post for a simultaneous start. Procedure in other years has been for each network to appropriate one September week as its own premiere period.

How will NBC's "The West-ern Ship in the Army?" do against CBS' "Candid Camera" and "What's My Line?" which have held the Sunday night rail position in the Nielsen ratings for several seasons? Does ABC's "Legend of Jesse James" have a chance pitted against such veteran ratings champs as "The Lucy Show" on CBS and "Dr. Kildare" on NBC?

Two weeks from tonight, viewers are going to be forced to make a blind choice among three shows making their debuts at the same time. The longest odds, of course, benefit the new entries placed in competition with last year's winners — the shows pitted against NBC's "Bonanza," CBS' "Gomer Pyle" and ABC's "Bewitched," to mention the three series which last year won, placed and showed in most of the Nielsen results.

Post-position handicapping, however, can be as dangerous as any other method of picking TV winners. Thus, there is always a chance that this year's "Gidget" can wind up in front of "Beverly Hillsbillies," or "Honey West" can overtake "Gomer Pyle" — not much of a chance, but it is always an interesting bet.

Series actors worry almost as much about the position of their shows in the network schedule as they do about their lines. One of the seasons big threats is ABC's "Peyton Place," which has recently been expanded to three episodes a week — with every one listed on the Nielsen top-10 chart.

Network executives, whose fate hangs on the Nielsen reports of audience interest, expect it will take the audience several weeks to look over the entries and place their viewing bets — so the early November results will be the only ones that really pay off.

Highway Slaughter Now Commonplace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So swift, so smooth, so pleasantly the car absorbs the miles. Power surges beneath that foot pedal. The hands rest lightly on the wheel. The highway calls. The engine purrs.

And then it happens—screaming rubber, helplessness, smashing steel and glass and death.

It hardly makes the headlines. It is an everyday affair. It becomes more common as the roads spread and the car-swarm thickens.

Take one day, an ordinary 24 hours, a Monday, Aug. 9. Barely had the day begun, in the dark, slumbrous stillness after midnight, when a young Hawarden, Iowa, husband, Walter Busch, 25, hastened his wife of 21 out to their car. She was in labor of childbirth.

They headed toward a hospital in Hudson S.D., 30 miles away. Tense, hurrying, he swung north on highway 46. Rounding a curve, he veered onto a bypass, where a south-bound car had halted at a stop sign.

He hit it, headon, only six miles from home. Soon afterward his injured wife delivered and son. But the newborn died. And so did she, before the sun came up.

A common curtain had risen on a common day. And when it had fallen, the figures for the dead were 56 adults, 25 teen-agers, 10 children, two babies.

A comparatively moderate number—93—for a day, as the cumulative count pushes toward 50,000 for 1965.

The number has risen 3.4 per cent annually for the last decade. It was 38,426 in 1955. Last year, 47,700 were killed, 3.8 million injured. And the toll mounts, the traveling increases and the vehicles multiply.

The details for Aug. 9, as assembled by The Associated Press from across the nation, offers a precautionary preview to another Monday, Sept. 6, Labor Day, and its adjoining weekend.

Back on Aug. 9, the common day, in Dayton, Ohio, Sgt. Frank Hickey of the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department was at a pistol range, getting some target practice, when he received an anxious telephone call from his wife.

Their son, Dennis, 9, was out on his bicycle somewhere, she had not seen him for several hours, it was after sunset and she had heard a radio report of an accident involving a boy on a bicycle.

Don't worry, her husband sought to reassure her. After all, he had handled many accident investigations and had impressed their son with safety rules. Anyhow, he'd check.

In a hospital, a young unidentified boy lay unconscious. He had been walking his bike across a busy highway when a pickup truck hit him. Sgt. Hickey, making his checks, located the victim. It was Dennis, by then dead.

It was a customary day. It had its customary traffic, its customary lapses, its uncontrolled speed, its surprise intersections, its weary eyes, darting children, failing tires, sharp curves, slick pavement and blind passing.

Sometimes the cause is known and sometimes, as then, much is mystery. Whatever the reason, it kept happening that day, an unceasing succession. In Georgia, 10 lives; California, 9; Michigan, 6; Illinois, Florida, Pennsylvania New York and Wyoming, 4 each; Indiana, Kentucky, Texas Tennessee, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Virginia and Washington 3 each.

Six states—Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Ohio—had 2 each; 12 had one apiece, and 16 others had none; scattered zones of respite—for a day.

Filled with fresh love and hope, a pair of Union Lake, Mich., newlyweds, Vincent Edward Rugger, 26, and his bride Kennett Lee 22, had been honeymooning for a week at a lake area cottage.

They attended a movie at nearby Harbor Beach then started the drive back to their honeymoon cottage. For an unexplained reason — A kiss? A diverting word? Their car evidently strayed across the middle line.

It was hit broadside by an oncoming car driven by Ronald James Wroubel, 24, of Pontiac, Mich. He had been on his way with two teen-age youths to pick up his wife at Harbor Beach to go to a fair.

He was charged with driving with a license previously revoked. Both he and the two youths with him were hospitalized.

So was Rugger. And his wife

for a week was dead—one of the 93.

As the National Safety Council gauges the country's fatal auto accidents, 12.5 per cent are due to hazardous conditions of nature—such as rain or fog—and 87.5 per cent result from human or mechanical faults.

Nearly half involve drinking drivers, raising questions of moral responsibility.

Speeding, the analytical tabulations say, is the most common factor in automobile casualties. Passing without sufficient clearance comes next.

"He apparently failed to see the approaching truck as he pulled out to pass another car." That was the explanation given about Robert Kozak, 23, a Sonoma, Calif., machinist.

He was on his way to work at the Kaiser Steel Co. in Napa. The big cab of the oncoming truck-trailer loomed ahead for a fearful instant—before it barreled over the top of Kozak's small car, killing him.

Anti-Garbage Dumping Campaign Said Working

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Washoe County's get-tough policy on garbage dumpers is working.

Sheriff C. W. Young said illegal dumping has almost disappeared. The county recently adopted a $100 minimum fine for dumping in unauthorized areas. A special plainclothes deputy was hired to be on the lookout.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The world is, in truth, moving toward its destiny. The interdependence of the peoples and nations of the earth is already an accomplished fact. Its unity in the economic sphere is now understood and recognized. The welfare of the part means the welfare of the whole, and the distress of the part brings distress to the whole. "Adversity, prolonged, worldwide, afflictive, must needs convulse the nations, stir the conscience of the world, disillusion the masses, precipitate a radical change in the very conception of society, and coalesce ultimately mankind into one body, single, organically united, and indivisible."

MIGHT BECOME A HABIT—Three models display designs for nuns' habits at an unusual fashion show in Rome. In spirit of the Ecumenical Council, habits are being sought that are more suited to 20th Century vocations than the traditional medieval attire now worn by nuns. The one in the middle is by Fontana, the other two by Christian Gian.

Methodist Cleric Defends Pastoral Counseling Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Critics of the Methodist Church's pastoral care and counseling program say it substitutes the couch for the cross. But the program is reaching an ever-swelling stream of the troubled.

Counseling augments rather than competes with psychiatry, says the Rev. James E. Doty, director of the Indiana program, first of its kind.

Answering clerical and lay opposition in the church, the Rev. Mr. Doty says: "If I can help people live better today, the hereafter will be a better experience also."

The Rev. Mr. Doty, who has a Ph.D. in psychology but calls himself a minister first and a psychologist second, has directed the Indiana program since its inception in 1957. It has served as a model for programs in Ohio, the District of Columbia and elsewhere.

The program has three phases — working with ministers on their own problems, training ministers as counselors, and setting up and supervising counseling centers.

It came into being because the Rev. Richard C. Raines, Methodist bishop of Indiana, and his district superintendents felt that their ministers were reluctant to discuss some problems with them and needed a counselor who was not the boss. The first phase was the result. The others followed.

The centers are the phase the public knows. Many persons with problems go to their own minister, but some are reluctant to do so. At a center they are able to talk with a minister from another church.

One center in Indiana in a five-year period devoted 2,682 hours to 697 cases — almost four hours per case — involving 893 persons. There were 365 Methodists among those involved, and the next large number — 102 — were persons with no religious affiliation.

Counseling ministers learn their psychology by experience and also by training in special centers such as general hospitals, mental hospitals and psychiatric clinics.

They have the help of experts in a variety of fields. They meet regularly with center committees that include lawyers, teachers, sociologists and others.

The centers accept contributions, but charge no fees. They operate at low cost. Churches provide the necessary space. Counselors and committee members serve without fee.

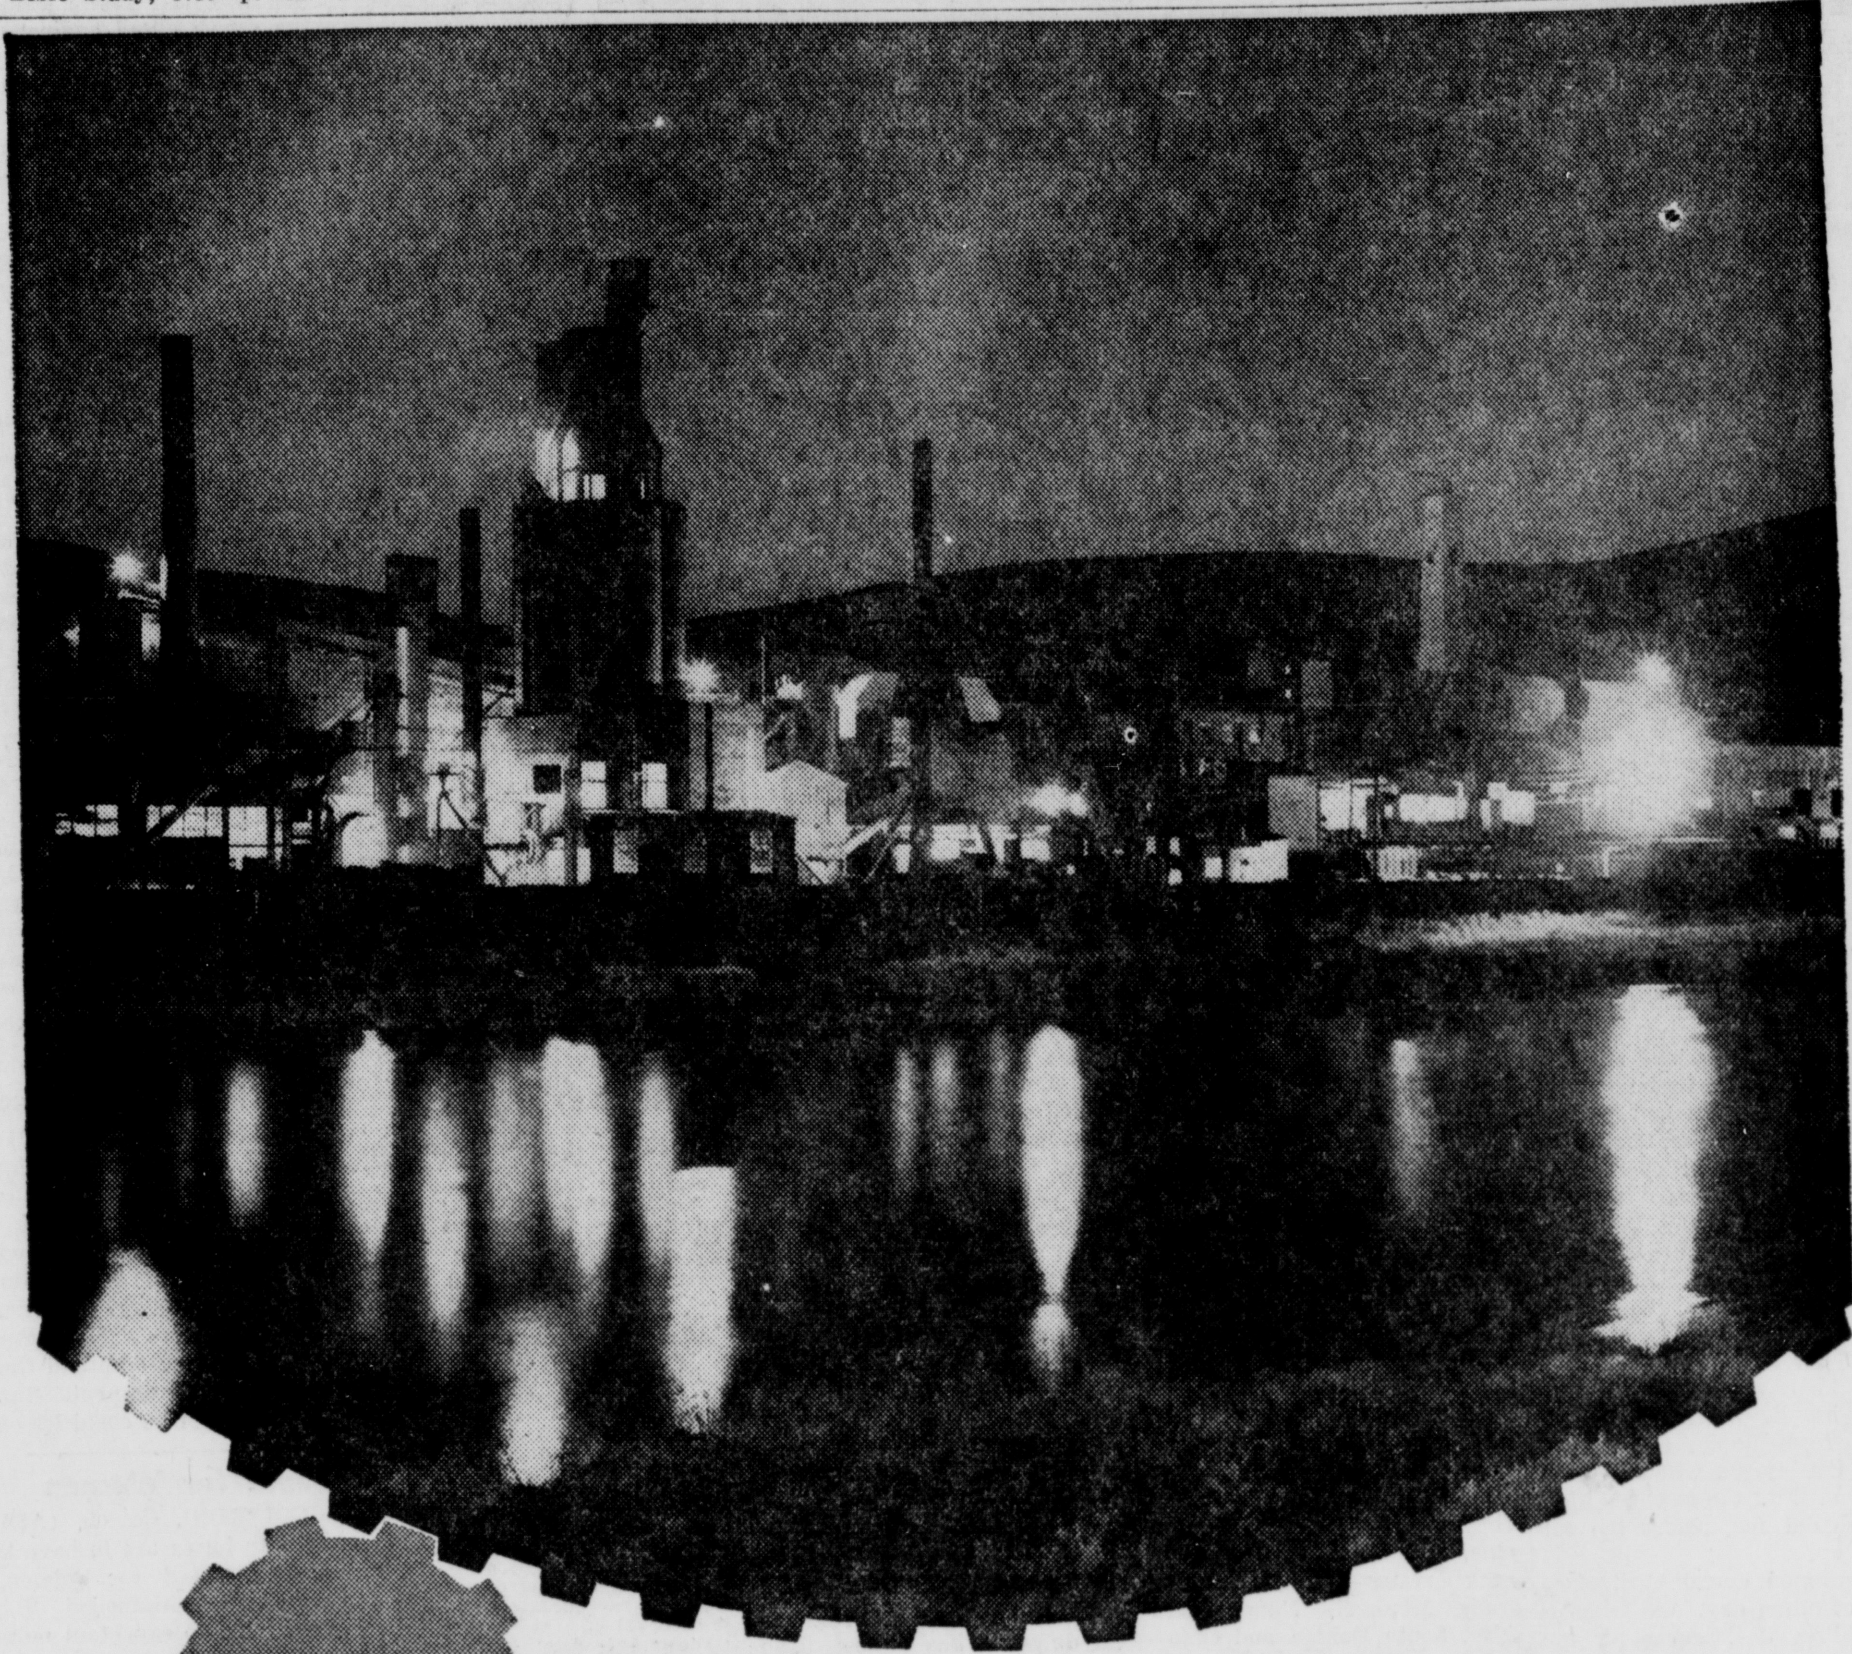

Ladies Missionary Crusaders To Meet

The Ladies Missionary Crusaders of the First Church of Christ in Christian Union, E. Ohio St., will meet Tuesday to begin its second year of activity.

The church sponsors missionaries at the mission field of Kenya, Africa; Antigua, Barbados and Dominica, W. Indies, Bolivia, South America; Honduras, Central America; New Guinea, Texas-Mexican border.

Members of the LMC have made and prepared many articles the past year that have been sent to various fields for the missionaries and natives.

Seismic waves provide geologists with almost their only means of studying the earth's deep interior.

In mills and factories across the country, they never stop working. By night as well as by day, the wheels of commerce grind out the goods we need as a nation.

It's a twenty-four hour job, this business of production, and it's a vital job — to you, your family, your town, our whole country. Like most vital jobs, it can't be stopped.

Faith is a vital job, too. It isn't simply something that God gives you, free of charge, on Christmas and at Easter. You have to work for real faith. You have to earn it. You have to keep at it.

Fortunately, to help you gain and sustain this vital faith, you have the Church to guide you. Start attending every Sunday and there absorb the wonders of God's teachings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The world is, in truth, moving on toward its destiny. The interdependence of the peoples and nations of the earth is already an accomplished fact. Its unity in the economic sphere is now understood and recognized. The welfare of the part means the welfare of the whole, and the distress of the part brings distress to the whole."

"Adversity, prolonged, worldwide, afflictive, must needs convulse the nations, stir the conscience of the world, disillusion the masses, precipitate a radical change in the very conception of society, and coalesce ultimately mankind into one body, single, organically united, and indivisible."

MIGHT BECOME A HABIT—Three models display designs for nuns' habits at an unusual fashion show in Rome. In spirit of the Ecumenical Council, habits are being sought that are more suited to 20th Century vocations than the traditional medieval attire now worn by nuns. The one in the middle is by Fontana, the other two by Christian Gian.

Methodist Cleric Defends Pastoral Counseling Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Critics of the Methodist Church's pastoral care and counseling program say it substitutes the couch for the cross. But the program is reaching an ever-swelling stream of the troubled.

Counseling augments rather than competes with psychiatry, says the Rev. James E. Doty, director of the Indiana program, first of its kind.

Answering clerical and lay opposition in the church, the Rev. Mr. Doty says: "If I can help people live better today, the hereafter will be a better experience also."

The Rev. Mr. Doty, who has a Ph.D. in psychology but calls himself a minister first and a psychologist second, has directed the Indiana program since its inception in 1957. It has served as a model for programs in Ohio, the District of Columbia and elsewhere.

The program has three phases — working with ministers on their own problems, training ministers as counselors, and setting up and supervising counseling centers.

It came into being because the Rev. Richard C. Raines, Methodist bishop of Indiana, and his district superintendents felt that their ministers were reluctant to discuss some problems with them and needed a counselor who was not the boss. The first phase was the result. The others followed.

The centers are the phase the public knows. Many persons with problems go to their own minister, but some are reluctant to do so. At a center they are able to talk with a minister from another church.

One center in Indiana in a five-year period devoted 2,682 hours to 697 cases — almost four hours per case — involving 893 persons. There were 365 Methodists among those involved, and the next large number — 102 — were persons with no religious affiliation.

Counseling ministers learn their psychology by experience and also by training in special centers such as general hospitals, mental hospitals and psychiatric clinics.

They have the help of experts in a variety of fields. They meet regularly with center committees that include lawyers, teachers, sociologists and others.

The centers accept contributions, but charge no fees. They operate at low cost. Churches provide the necessary space. Counselors and committee members serve without fee.

and

DAY

In mills and factories across the country, they never stop working. By night as well as by day, the wheels of commerce grind out the goods we need as a nation.

It's a twenty-four hour job, this business of production, and it's a vital job — to you, your family, your town, our whole country. Like most vital jobs, it can't be stopped.

Faith is a vital job, too. It isn't simply something that God gives you, free of charge, on Christmas and at Easter. You have to work for real faith. You have to earn it. You have to keep at it.

Fortunately, to help you gain and sustain this vital faith, you have the Church to guide you. Start attending every Sunday and there absorb the wonders of God's teachings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dawson Home After Failing To Find Kin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave. 'In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family.'"

On busy days at Hawaii's Waikiki Beach the ocean is so crowded with surfboards that swimmers call it "the lumber yard."

Growing in Faith

THE MEANING AND POWER OF FAITH

Scripture—Colossians 1:9-14, 21-23; Hebrews 11:1.

By R. H. RAMSEY

TODAY'S lesson deals with areas of Christian growth and sets forth those qualities which should enable us to make progress toward a mature Christian life.

Reports of deviation from true Christian doctrine among the Colossians reached Paul in his Roman prison. It was brought about by Jewish Christians who were not only emphasizing matters of food, drink and holiday observance, but were preaching a doctrine of the mediation of angels which the Apostle felt usurped the place of Christ in bringing man and God into contact and fellowship.

Whether it was serious, or potentially serious, is hard to say. However, Paul felt it necessary to cut the trouble off at the root before it could spread. To combat the heresy Paul issued a great and positive statement of the divinity, glory and sufficiency of Christ.

After the usual salutation and thanksgiving at the start of the letter Paul tells the Colossians that he prays for them daily, asking that the members of the church there should know the will of God and progress in a manner pleasing to the Lord, able to see with natural vision a reality. What we see with natural vision is temporal; what we see through the eye of faith is eternal. Faith is a proof or demonstration of the reality of the unseen because it comes from and takes hold of God Himself.

In the letter to the Hebrews the author shows that earthly things are but types or shadows of things that are real in the heavens. The natural man takes for granted that the real things are those he can see and touch, but the spiritual man knows that these are passing and true reality is in those things which abide.

The way we realize with assurance the heavenly realities is by faith. This is not of ourselves, it is the gift of God. The proof of what faith can do in life comes from the long list of patriarchs and martyrs so familiar to the Hebrew Christians. These heroes of old accomplished by the power of their faith in God far more than human strength could ever do. As Christians, we are called upon to continue the great procession of heroes of the faith.

In verses 13-18 Paul attempts to explain what Christ is and what He should mean to every Christian. The result is probably the greatest statement concerning the nature of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

Dawson Home After Failing To Find Kin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave."

"In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

On busy days at Hawaii's Waikiki Beach the ocean is so crowded with surfboards that swimmers call it "the lumber yard."

Chamber Heads Eye Heavy Card

A heavy agenda will be on tap when the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meets Tuesday for a luncheon session at the Pick-away Arms.

A portion of the business program will be devoted to committee activities. Panels scheduled to report are: Airport, Safety, Education, Congressional Action and Retail Merchants. The docket also calls for the appointment of nominating and finance committees.

The meeting will start at 11:45 a. m. instead of the usual noon beginning time, with adjournment set for 1 p. m.

Pluto, the most remote of the nine planets, was not discovered until 1930. Though many astronomers suspected for years the existence of another planet, Clyde Tombaugh of the Lowell Observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz., was the first to pinpoint its location while examining photographic plates he had exposed in a telescope.

U.S. Helps Iran Fight Outbreak of Cholera

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iran has had the help of the United States in heading off a possible cholera outbreak by airlifting vaccines and other assistance.

The Agency for International Development says the contribution at a cost of $46,229 included vaccines, air transport and loaned services of Naples-based U.S. Navy health advisers.

Trio Robs Warren Bank Of $68,621

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Police in Eastern Ohio worked today to pick up the trail of three men who threatened 18 persons with pistols, rifled four tellers' cages at a branch of the Union Savings & Trust Co. and fled with $68,621.

The men, unmasked, entered by the front and rear doors of the bank about five minutes before closing time. They ordered seven bank employees and six customers to lie face down on the floor while they forced two tellers to turn over the cash in their cages.

Two other customers and a bank messenger who came in while the holdup was in progress were herded into a vault and the door slammed, but it did not lock.

Bank officials set the amount of money stolen after an audit. The same branch back was robbed of $32,000 by three men two years ago, and those robbers were caught and sent to prison.

Police said they found no one who saw the men flee, presumably by automobile.

Vietnamese Desertions On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rate of desertions from South Viet Nam's armed forces has dropped by more than half from a high point early this year, Pentagon sources disclosed today.

This is considered a hopeful sign, possibly indicating an upswing in South Vietnamese morale and a rising confidence in the non-Communist cause. The Pentagon refused to discuss the desertion rate. But knowledgeable sources said it is now down below 5,000 a month. About 10,000 men a month were pulling out of the South Vietnamese armed forces for about three months early this year. Although the desertion rate has been cut by more than half, it still represents a heavy drain on a force already stretched so thin that the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam has had to be increased heavily.

The desertion problem makes much tougher the job of building the South Vietnamese armed forces by another 100,000 men. The present strength stands at about 545,000.

U.S. authorities are hopeful that higher pay and reforms aimed at improving the lot of soldiers and their families will lower the desertion rate further.

Trio Robs Warren Bank Of $68,621

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Police in Eastern Ohio worked today to pick up the trail of three men who threatened 18 persons with pistols, rifled four tellers' cages at a branch of the Union Savings & Trust Co. and fled with $68,621.

The men, unmasked, entered by the front and rear doors of the bank about five minutes before closing time. They ordered seven bank employees and six customers to lie face down on the floor while they forced two tellers to turn over the cash in their cages.

Two other customers and a bank messenger who came in while the holdup was in progress were herded into a vault and the door slammed, but it did not lock.

Bank officials set the amount of money stolen after an audit. The same branch bank was robbed of $32,000 by three men two years ago, and those robbers were caught and sent to prison.

Police said they found no one who saw the men flee, presumably by automobile.

Vietnamese Desertions On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rate of desertions from South Viet Nam's armed forces has dropped by more than half from a high point early this year, Pentagon sources disclosed today.

This is considered a hopeful sign, possibly indicating an upswing in South Vietnamese morale and a rising confidence in the non-Communist cause.

The Pentagon refused to discuss the desertion rate. But knowledgeable sources said it is now down below 5,000 a month. About 10,000 men a month were pulling out of the South Vietnamese armed forces for about three months early this year.

Although the desertion rate has been cut by more than half, it still represents a heavy drain on a force already stretched so thin that the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam has had to be increased heavily.

The desertion problem makes much tougher the job of building the South Vietnamese armed forces by another 100,000 men. The present strength stands at about 545,000.

U.S. authorities are hopeful that higher pay and reforms aimed at improving the lot of soldiers and their families will lower the desertion rate further.

National Loop Standings Are Rescrambled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Juan Marichal, Mike de la Hoz and Jim Lefebvre — the headliners Thursday as the National League pennant race got another day older and remained just as deep in confusion with the three top teams going through another 1-2-3 shuffle.

The main focus was at Philadelphia, where Marichal made his first start for San Francisco since his suspension and was both booed and belted as he dropped a 4-3 decision to the Phillies before the Giants came back to take the nightcap of the doubleheader 5-2.

De la Hoz got the key blow for Milwaukee, lofting a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning that drove in Eddie Mathews with the winning run as the Braves edged Cincinnati 4-3 and dropped the Reds from first to third place.

Lefebvre supplied the big bat for Los Angeles, driving in four runs with two singles and a double as the Dodgers whipped Pittsburgh 7-1, ended a three-game losing streak and regained the top spot.

The Dodgers now are one game in front of the Giants, while the Reds are one game off the pace and one percentage point behind San Francisco. The fourth-place Braves are two behind and the fifth-place Pirates 3½ out.

While the leaders were scrambling, Ernie Banks hit the 400th homer of his career in the Chicago Cubs' 5-3 victory over St. Louis and Houston downed the New York Mets 4-3.

In the American League, Detroit edged Minnesota 5-4, the Chicago White Sox swept Baltimore 5-3 and 9-3, Cleveland crushed Kansas City 10-6, the New York Yankees walloped the Los Angeles Angels 8-1 and Washington defeated Boston 5-4.

Marichal attributed his defeat to the long layoff — "I have to work every four days to keep sharp." He surrendered seven hits in seven innings, including a homer by light-hitting Bobby Wine, and was charged with all four runs and his 10th loss against 19 victories.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning of the nightcap as Ken Henderson walked, reached second when Richie Allen threw wild on Frank Linzy's bunt and scored as Matty Alou swung and missed a wild pitch third strike fired by Jack Baldschun. Jack Hiatt's single and Jim Hart's sacrifice fly brought in two more runs.

The Reds had pulled into a tie in the seventh on Frank Robinson's homer off Hank Fisher, who had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning. The Braves won it in the 11th when Mathews singled, moved to third as pitcher Ted Davidson threw wild on Frank Bolling's bunt and scored when de la Hoz, batting for Fisher, hit his sacrifice fly.

Lefebvre singled in two runs in the third inning, singled home another in the fifth and drove across a fourth run with a seventh-inning double. Dodger starter Claude Osteen carried a four-hit shutout into the eighth but needed Ron Perranoski's relief help to get his 12th victory against 13 losses.

Banks' homer capped a four-run third-inning uprising that proved enough for the Cubs. He became only the 11th player ever to reach the 400-homer plateau.

Rusty Staub collected a homer, double and single, driving in two runs and scored a pair as the Astros defeated the Mets.

One of the oldest golf courses in the South was laid out at Sarasota, Fla., in 1888 by Col. Hamilton Gillespie. It had nine holes.

Coaches Pick Logan Elm As SVC Football Favorite

By STEVE JONES
Coaches of the Scioto Valley Conference are unanimous in naming Logan Elm High School the preseason favorite to capture the league football crown. Piketon, under veteran coach Ron Jones, is considered a top contender to repeat, although the Redstreaks lost 10 of 11 offensive starters through graduation.

Not to be counted out of the conference is Westfall High School, the team that finished last during the 1964 grid campaign.

A lack of size at Unioto where the biggest candidate weighs less than 170 pounds, a lack of depth at Paint Valley were only 23 hopefuls reported for early practice sessions, would seem to rule these two schools out of the title race.

HOWEVER, coaches feel the conference will be much better balanced this year than last when champion Piketon and runnerup Logan Elm completely dominated competition. The Redstreaks were undefeated for the season while the only loss for the Braves was at the hands of Piketon.

At Westfall, new head coach William Duncan lists a host of returning lettermen. The group is headed by a strong backfield contingent, including returning quarterback Gary Liff and Danny Bowen who has been switched from fullback to halfback. The Mustangs are counting heavily on Ray Mowery, veteran halfback, and Tom Hamman, converted from his familiar guard spot to fullback. Hamman last year was the SVC's "lineman of the year."

Along the line, Duncan has Norman O'Connor at center, Lou Gantz and Jim Garrett at guards, Lou McFarland at tackle and Bill Gibson and Brad Thompson at ends. All are veteran performers.

With only 27 gridders on the roster, a lack of depth could hurt the Mustangs. Already Gene Justice and Larry Keller have been lost for the season, one with a broken leg and the other with a broken foot.

Westfall is the lone SVC school with a 10-game schedule. The others play only nine.

AT LOGAN ELM, first year coach Jim Colville is looking for a quarterback to replace graduated All-Conference star Jeff Lutz.

However, opposing coaches feel that should any weakness develop here, strength at other positions should make up for it.

Dale Jenne and Ken Palmer currently are sharing the signal calling duties. With Jim Moorehead and Steve Burger, two strong running backs, are veteran linemen Mike Temple, Gary Black, Bruce Wolford, Gary Courtright, Don Benner and Rick Rawlins. Flankers in Colville's unbalanced T offense are Roy Strawser, Tim Huffman and Larry Stant.

Piketon lost all but one offensive starter. However, that starter is Earl Willson, the junior speedster who has been the terror of the league for the past two years.

To go with Willson, Jones has 10 lettermen. They are Randy Deering, Robert Deering, Ron Cook, Ron Crace, Bill Auton, all backs and linemen Mark Roosa, Bill Hilt, Phil Eckel, Brent McNelly and Bob Gatrell.

Jim Vandegrift, Unioto's head coach, is bemoaning his lack of size already.

HE HAS seven returning lettermen, including Mike Juenger, center; Glen Cokenough and Mike Barney, both tackles; Tim Borland, fullback; Lloyd Davis, guard; Jim Echard, quarterback and Dave Brentley, halfback.

With 41 grid candidates, Vandegrift has one of the largest turnouts for the fall campaign.

Ray Bethel, a former coach at Ashville High School, guided the Paint Valley Bearcats to their finest season last year with a 5-4-1 record.

However, the roster numbers a scant 23. This lack of bench strength could well hurt the Bearcats' chances for the coming year.

Bethel's returning lettermen include Don Anderson, Keith Vincent, John Murphy, Mike Knisley and Mike Kinnamon. In the backfield he has Mike Dotson, Beryl Elliott and Mike Whitt, a trio of veterans.

Here is the complete Scioto Valley Conference schedule.

Sept. 10 — Logan Elm at Carroll, Westfall at Amanda, Adena at Unioto, Piketon at Paint Valley.

Sept. 17 — Amanda at Logan Elm, Westfall at Unioto, Paint Valley at Clermont Northeast, Adena at Piketon.

Sept. 24 — Logan Elm at Teays Valley, Jonathan Alder at Westfall, Adena at Paint Valley, New Boston at Piketon, Unioto at Northeast.

Oct. 1 — Logan Elm at Unioto, Pickerington at Paint Valley, Piketon at Waverly, Teays Valley at Westfall.

Packers, Cards Picked in NFL

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and the St. Louis Cardinals will meet for the National Football League championship, Sunday, Jan. 2 before 50,837 half-frozen customers at Green Bay's Lambeau Field.

The Packers, driven hard by taskmaster Vince Lombardi, are revived up for a running start in their drive to recapture the Western Conference championship after watching Chicago win in 1963 and Baltimore in 1964.

Baltimore's defending Western champs, intact except for Gino Marchetti and Bill Pelling, should fight it out with Norm Van Brocklin's confident Minnesota Vikings for second money in the West. Los Angeles could be the dark horse if Bill Munson comes through big but the Chicago Bears, Detroit and San Francisco look like second division contenders.

St. Louis never has won the Eastern Conference crown since the Cardinals moved west from Chicago in 1960. But this could be the year for the Bidwill brothers and Wally Lemm.

The Cards have the passer in Charley Johnson and the running backs in Bill Triplett and Joe Childress plus a solid offensive line and a sound defense. If they play up to their capabilities they should be able to outscramble Cleveland's defending league champs for the right to play Green Bay.

The loss of Paul Warfield in the early weeks of the campaign may be too much of a handicap for the Browns, who must face an improved Washington team and St. Louis in the first two weeks of the season.

Washington, the Eastern dark horse, should know the best or worst — by mid-October. The Skins play the Cardinals twice, Oct. 10 and Oct. 24 in three weeks and open with Cleveland. If Sonny Jurgensen's arm holds up and Charley Taylor suffers no more injuries, the Redskins could be pesky contenders all the way.

Dallas had potential scoring punch but Don Meredith must prove once and for all that he is a No. 1 quarterback. Philadelphia will go as far as the blitz and Timmy Brown will take them. Both New York and Pittsburgh have quarterback questions although the Giants' stable of big running backs may come fast.

Here's the way it looks from here:

Western Conference

1. Green Bay
2. Baltimore
3. Minnesota
4. Los Angeles
5. Chicago
6. Detroit
7. San Francisco

Eastern Conference

1. St. Louis
2. Cleveland
3. Washington
4. Dallas
5. New York
6. Pittsburgh
7. Philadelphia

Haddix Retires, Shuns Milwaukee

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harvey Haddix, who pitched 12 perfect innings in a 1959 game, has retired from baseball rather than be less than best for a pennant-contending club.

The veteran left-hander was dealt to the Milwaukee Braves earlier in the week by the Baltimore Orioles. But even the possibility of a World Series cut wasn't enough to keep Haddix away from retirement to his farm.

"It would have been easy for me to try and pitch for Milwaukee," Haddix said from his home in South Vienna, Ohio.

"But if I lost a game or two, it might cost the pennant, and that I wouldn't like. If I thought I could help, I'd be with them."

State Fair Sulky Races Offer Rare Triple-Header

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three major stakes events were decided in an unprecedented harness racing triple-header at the Ohio State Fair Thursday.

The day's biggest prize, $26,800, went to True Duane, winner of the Buckeye State Pace.

Spud Coalton, driven by Wayne Smart, posted a time of 2:05 for the mile, fastest of the racing session, to win the $23,600 1965 Governor's Cup.

Turxedo Hanover, a Little Brown Jug hopeful owned by Dale Martin of Tipp City and J. E. Martin of Troy, won his elimination heat and then took the final runoff to win the $23,200 Director of Agriculture Pace.

The three races topped a full day of harness activity, caused because races from the previous two days were rained out and rescheduled.

The day's biggest prize, $26,800, went to True Duane, winner of the Buckeye State Pace.

Spud Coalstown, driven by Wayne Smart, posted a time of 2:05 for the mile, fastest of the racing session, to win the $23,600 1965 Governor's Cup.

Turkxdo Hanover, a Little Brown Jug hopeful owned by Dale Martin of Tipp City and J. E. Martin of Troy, won his elimination heat and then took the final runoff to win the $23,200 Director of Agriculture Pace.

The three races topped a full day of harness activity, caused because races from the previous two days were rained out and rescheduled.

With only 27 gridders on the roster, a lack of depth could hurt the Mustangs. Already Gene Justice and Larry Keller have been lost for the season, one with a broken leg and the other with a broken foot.

Westfall is the lone SVC school with a 10-game schedule. The others play only nine.

AT LOGAN ELM, first year coach Jim Colville is looking for a quarterback to replace graduated All-Conference star Jeff Lutz.

However, opposing coaches feel that should any weakness develop here, strength at other positions should make up for it.

Dale Jenne and Ken Palmer currently are sharing the signal calling duties. With Jim Moorehead and Steve Burger, two strong running backs, are veteran linemen Mike Temple, Gary Black, Bruce Wolford, Gary Courtright, Don Benner and Rick Rawlins. Flankers in Colville's unbalanced T offense are Roy Strawser, Tim Huffman and Larry Stant.

Piketon lost all but one offensive starter. However, that starter is Earl Willson, the junior speedster who has been the terror of the league for the past two years.

To go with Willson, Jones has 10 lettermen. They are Randy Deering, Robert Deering, Ron Cook, Ron Craze, Bill Auton, all backs and linemen Mark Roosa, Bill Hitt, Phil Eckel, Brent McNelly and Bob Gattrell.

Jim Vandegrift, Unioto's head coach, is bemoaning his lack of size already.

HE HAS seven returning lettermen, including Mike Juenger, center; Glen Cokenough and Mike Barney, both tackles; Tim Borland, fullback; Lloyd Davis, guard; Jim Echard, quarterback and Dave Brentley, halfback.

With 41 grid candidates, Vandegrift has one of the largest turnouts for the fall campaign.

Ray Bethel, a former coach at Ashville High School, guided the Paint Valley Bearcats to their finest season last year with a 5-4-1 record.

However, the roster numbers a scant 23. This lack of bench strength could well hurt the Bearcats' chances for the coming year.

Here is the complete Scioto Valley Conference schedule.

Sept. 10 — Logan Elm at Carroll, Westfall at Amanda, Adena at Unioto, Piketon at Paint Valley.

Sept. 17 — Amanda at Logan Elm, Westfall at Unioto, Paint Valley at Clermont Northeast, Adena at Piketon.

Sept. 24 — Logan Elm at Teays Valley, Jonathan Alder at Westfall, Adena at Paint Valley, New Boston at Piketon, Unioto at Northeast.

Oct. 1 — Logan Elm at Unioto, Pickerington at Paint Valley, Piketon at Waverly, Teays Valley at Westfall.

Oct. 8 — Canal Winchester at Logan Elm, Piketon at Westfall, Unioto at Paint Valley.

Oct. 15 — New Lexington St. Aloysius at Logan Elm, Paint Valley at Westfall, Unioto at Piketon.

Oct. 21 — Paint Valley at Unioto.

Oct. 22 — Logan Elm at Westfall, Piketon at Northwest.

Oct. 29 — Piketon at Logan Elm, Westfall at Paint Valley.

Oct. 30 — Unioto at Pickerington.

Nov. 5 — Paint Valley at Logan Elm, Unioto at Westfall, Portsmouth East at Piketon.

Nov. 12 — Westfall at Mt. Sterling.

Packers, Cards Picked in NFL

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and the St. Louis Cardinals will meet for the National Football League championship, Sunday, Jan. 2 before 50,837 half-frozen customers at Green Bay's Lambeau Field.

The Packers, driven hard by taskmaster Vince Lombardi, are revived up for a running start in their drive to recapture the Western Conference championship after watching Chicago win in 1963 and Baltimore in 1964.

Baltimore's defending Western champs, intact except for Gino Marchetti and Bill Pelling, should fight it out with Norm Van Brocklin's confident Minnesota Vikings for second money in the West. Los Angeles could be the dark horse if Bill Munson comes through big but the Chicago Bears, Detroit and San Francisco look like second division contenders.

St. Louis never has won the Eastern Conference crown since the Cardinals moved west from Chicago in 1960. But this could be the year for the Bidwill brothers and Wally Lemm.

The Cards have the passer in Charley Johnson and the running backs in Bill Triplett and Joe Childress plus a solid offensive line and a sound defense. If they play up to their capabilities they should be able to outscramble Cleveland's defending league champs for the right to play Green Bay.

The loss of Paul Warfield in the early weeks of the campaign may be too much of a handicap

for the Browns, who must face an improved Washington team and St. Louis in the first two weeks of the season.

Washington, the Eastern dark horse, should know the best or worst — by mid-October. The Skins play the Cardinals twice, Oct. 10 and Oct. 24 in three weeks and open with Cleveland. If Sonny Jurgensen's arm holds up and Charley Taylor suffers no more injuries, the Redskins could be pesky contenders all the way.

Dallas had potential scoring punch but Don Meredith must prove once and for all that he is a No. 1 quarterback. Philadelphia will go as far as the blitz and Timmy Brown will take them. Both New York and Pittsburgh have quarterback questions although the Giants' stable of big running backs may come fast.

Here's the way it looks from here:

- | | |
|---------------------------|------------------|
| Western Conference | 1. Green Bay |
| | 2. Baltimore |
| | 3. Minnesota |
| | 4. Los Angeles |
| | 5. Chicago |
| | 6. Detroit |
| | 7. San Francisco |
| Eastern Conference | 1. St. Louis |
| | 2. Cleveland |
| | 3. Washington |
| | 4. Dallas |
| | 5. New York |
| | 6. Pittsburgh |
| | 7. Philadelphia |

The Selima, a race for 2-year old fillies run each year at Laurel in Baltimore, will become a $100,000 race in 1966.

Haddix Retires, Shuns Milwaukee

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harvey Haddix, who pitched 12 perfect innings in a 1959 game, has retired from baseball rather than be less than best for a pennant-contending club.

The veteran left-hander was dealt to the Milwaukee Braves earlier in the week by the Baltimore Orioles. But even the possibility of a World Series cut wasn't enough to keep Haddix away from retirement to his farm.

"It would have been easy for me to try and pitch for Milwaukee," Haddix said from his home in South Vienna, Ohio. "But if I lost a game or two, it might cost the pennant, and that I wouldn't like. If I thought I could help, I'd be with them."

World Bank OKs Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The World Bank has approved a $33-million loan to Peru to help finance construction of a 302-mile road from La Oroya to Aguaytia.

Namath May Just Answer Phone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Jets' great experiment has ended its laboratory phase with no conclusive results and one frightening possibility...the Jets may have a $400,000 telephone operator on their hands.

Scioto Results, Entries

With Namath unable to make connections throughout the exhibition campaign — 22 completions in 74 attempts for five games — and the Sept. 12 season opener at Houston imminent, it appears certain Coach Weeb Ewbank will nominate Mike Taliaferro, odd man in the Jets' quarterback derby, as the No. 1 signal-caller.

That would leave the telephone from the Jets bench to the pressbox strategists in Namath's care — at least for the time being.

Ewbank's Cup Runneth Over

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets considers himself fortunate—he can turn his thumbs down on $400,000 if that is his decision.

The $400,000 represents the investment in Joe Namath, the quarterback from Alabama in a three-way battle with holdover Mike Taliaferro and rookie John Huarte, the Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame, in the American Football League club's quarterback sweepstakes. Ewbank intends to carry only three quarterbacks, including Jim Turner, who doubles as a place-kicking specialist. Therefore, the Namath-Huarte-Taliaferro trio will wind up a twosome before the season opens.

"I do not have to keep either of the two rookies," said Ewbank. "Neither is on our roster now."

And so the battle for the quarterbacking spot remains the key to the Jets' chances in the Eastern Division race.

With Dick Wood traded to Oakland, Taliaferro automatically became the No. 1 quarterback. And the job is his to keep despite only 2½ games of actual experience, unless Namath or Huarte or both can take it away.

Whatever the final selection, the Jets figure to be a more consistent team this year, with more depth, especially in the defensive backfield, where injuries almost completely depleted the complement last year.

Running in the backfield with the winner of the quarterback sweepstakes will be Matt Snell, Rookie of the Year last season after finishing second in the league in rushing with 945 yards gained, and either holdover Bill Mathis or Bob Schweickert.

Schweickert, an all-purpose rookie from Virginia Tech who could make the pass-option an effective weapon for the Jets, is being heralded as out of the Frank Gifford mold.

The flanker back spot currently belongs to Don Maynard, completing the receiving corps are split end Bake Turner and Gen Heeter and Dee Mackay, who share the tight end duties.

The remainder of the offensive line is strong with Winston Hill and 295-pound Sherman Plunkett at the tackle spots, Sam DeLuca and Dan Ficca at the guard posts and Mike Hudock at center.

Defensively, the problem is at cornerback, where Clyde Washington and Marshall Starks both were seriously injured last season. Washington has made a full recovery but Starks has rounded into shape slowly. Veteran standouts Dainard Paulson and Bill Baird are the safeties.

The remainder of the defense is strong, despite its youth. Gerry Philbin, a second-year man, will anchor one end with Bert Wilder, also a rookie last season, pressing veteran LaVerne Torczon at the other end post. Verlon Biggs, rookie from Jackson State, Miss., also might figure.

The tackles are Pau Rochester and Gordy Holz with an all veteran linebacking crew of all-league selection Larry Grantham, Whahoo McDaniel and Ralph Baker.

The AFL winds up its exhibition schedule Saturday night with three games — San Diego vs. Houston at Little Rock, Ark., Boston at Kansas City and Denver vs. Oakland at Sacramento, Calif.

All 14 NFL Clubs are in action, with Saturday night's SRO doubleheader at Cleveland topping the card. The twin bill matches the league champion Browns against powerful Green Bay and the Detroit Lions against the New York Giants.

Minnesota and Dallas collide at Birmingham, Ala., while St. Louis is at Chicago in tonight's NFL games. Other pairings are Pittsburgh-San Francisco at Providence, R.I., Saturday afternoon, Baltimore-Washington at Norfolk, Va., Saturday night, and Philadelphia at Los Angeles Sunday.

Ohio Fishing Conditions Said Improving Now

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's fishing conditions have improved slightly during the past few days and cooler evenings should be conducive to better angling results, the Ohio Division of Wildlife said Thursday.

The fishing observers noted that while there are no real "hot" spots, Lake Erie fishermen are probably doing the best.

The fishing outlook by areas: CENTRAL—Fishing has been fair to good in Delaware, Hoover and O'Shaughnessy Reservoirs; bass, bluegills and catfish are making up most of the catches although a few walleyes and other species are showing up. Stream fishing here has just been fair as many of the streams are roily or muddy.

NORTHWESTERN—Best fishing in this area will be found in lakes in the following counties: Hancock, Paulding, Van Wert and Ottawa. The best stream fishing here is coming from the Portage River although no outstanding catches are being made.

NORTHEASTERN — Bass, bluegills and catfish are doing fairly well in the following lakes: Punderson, Aquilla, Lake Park, Nimisila, Portage, Springfield and Mosquito. A few walleyes are still being taken in Pymatuning and Mosquito. Stream fishing here is rated poor.

SOUTHEASTERN — Fishing in the Muskingum River continues good, especially in Morgan, Muskingum and Washington Counties. Large numbers of catfish are being taken together with some bass, carp and sheepshead. Lake fishing in this district is improving and largemouth bass and bluegills are being caught from a number of impoundments.

SOUTHWESTERN — Best fishing reports here are coming from the following lakes: Grant, Cowan, Spring Valley, Decker and Englewood Dam. Many of the other lakes here are in fair to good condition but there have been few fishermen out. Stream fishing is rated poor to fair.

With the AFL winds up its exhibition schedule Saturday night with three games — San Diego vs. Houston at Little Rock, Ark., Boston at Kansas City and Denver vs. Oakland at Sacramento, Calif.

All 14 NFL Clubs are in action, with Saturday night's SRO doubleheader at Cleveland topping the card. The twin bill matches the league champion Browns against powerful Green Bay and the Detroit Lions against the New York Giants.

Minnesota and Dallas collide at Birmingham, Ala., while St. Louis is at Chicago in tonight's NFL games. Other pairings are Pittsburgh-San Francisco at Providence, R.I., Saturday afternoon, Baltimore-Washington at Norfolk, Va., Saturday night, and Philadelphia at Los Angeles Sunday.

priced rookie quarterback, founded again Thursday night as the Jets dropped a 31-10 decision to Buffalo's American Football League champions in the final preseason tuneup for both clubs.

With Namath unable to make connections throughout the exhibition campaign — 22 completions in 74 attempts for five games — and the Sept. 12 season opener at Houston imminent, it appears certain Coach Weeb Ewbank will nominate Mike Taliaferro, odd man in the Jets' quarterback derby, as the No. 1 signal-caller.

That would leave the telephone from the Jets bench to the pressbox strategists in Namath's care — at least for the time being.

Taliaferro and Namath each worked one half against the rugged Bills — with John ($200,000) Huarte getting a brief shot near the finish. Taliaferro completed eight of 17 tosses for 162 yards. Namath missed on 13 of 17 pitches — including 11 straight in one stretch — but fired a 35-yard strike to Don Maynard, in the final period for New York's only touchdown.

The game was the prelude to a full weekend of activity in both the American and National Leagues.

Ewbank's Cup Runneth Over

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets considers himself fortunate—he can turn his thumbs down on $400,000 if that is his decision.

The $400,000 represents the investment in Joe Namath, the quarterback from Alabama in a three-way battle with holdover Mike Taliaferro and rookie John Huarte, the Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame, in the American Football League

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A young Hamilton Marine died in South Viet Nam this week without having ever seen his young daughter.

Pfc. Nelson E. Wilson, 19, was killed Wednesday while on patrol, according to a telegram from Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene to Mrs. Dieretta Wilson.

Although shocked by the news of her husband's death, Mrs. Wilson said, "I would not have felt as bad if he had had a chance to see the baby, but he didn't get a chance."

Wilson enlisted in the Marine Corps last Oct. 2. He was last home on leave in January and was sent to Viet Nam in June.

The Wilsons' baby, Schericia Jeannene, was born three months ago.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten Ohio airports are included in a $84.5 million allocation announced Thursday by the Federal Aviation Agency for airport construction and improvements. The allocations require local matching funds.

They are: Akron-Canton, $43,248; Akron Municipal, $80,337; Cambridge, $127,950; Celina, $20,105; Cincinnati, Municipal-Blue Ash, $727,180; Cleveland, Burke Lakefront, $218,100; Cleveland, Hopkins International, $1,212,850; Cleveland, Cuyahoga, $210,150; Columbus Municipal, $412,493; and Dayton, James M. Cox Municipal, $653,030.

LONDON (AP)—The 1225 Magna Carta leaves this country today for display in the United States.

A spokesman at the Public Record Office said: "We believe this is the first time the document has left this country."

Measuring 12 by 22 inches, Magna Carta will go first to Washington. There, in the National Archives, it will be displayed next to the Declaration of Independence during the World Conference on World Peace Through Law, Sept. 12-18.

From Washington, Magna Carta will be taken to Atlanta during the October meeting of the National Council of the English Speaking Union of America.

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Fourteen Negro pupils registered at three white schools today in Selma, the birthplace of the 1965 civil rights struggle, but 17 other Negroes scheduled to sign up for desegregated classes failed to show up.

City police kept watch at each of the four schools where Negroes were told in advance they would be admitted. The integration was peaceful.

All the desegregated schools are elementary facilities. No Negroes were enrolled at Parrish High, the white high school, and no attempt was made to get in despite earlier rumors of a possible Negro march on the school.

MOSCOW (AP)—Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was hospitalized for tests last month but is now back at his country dacha in good health, his daughter said today.

Rada Adzhubei, Khrushchev's daughter and wife of former Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, told a reporter, "He feels well."

She said Khrushchev was in a hospital last month for tests normal for a man 71 years old. She declined to elaborate further.

Reliable Communist sources said Khrushchev had been treated for circulatory trouble. The sources said Khrushchev had been under regular medical observation since he was deposed last October.

Baptist Church Holds
Ordination Services

A special Ordination Service was held recently at the First Baptist Church, N. Court St. Ordained as Deacons in the Southern Baptist Convention were Lawrence Black, Bill McKinney and Paul Smith.

Those in charge of the service were the pastor, Robert A.

Charge to the Church was given by Vern Saunders, the Charge to the Deacons' wives by Earl Tatum, and the Charge to the Deacons by Hal Spencer.

Dan Kimsey who had been on assignment in the Air Force was also ordained a Deacon at

Enlistments Zooming
For Armed Services

WASHINGTON (AP)—Voluntary enlistments in the armed services have jumped since President Johnson ordered a sharp boost in the draft, it was learned today.

Figures for August—the first full month since the President's action—indicate a gain for all the forces.

Marines reported a 20 per cent increase, the Army a 19 per cent rise. Both the Navy and the Air Force said they ex-

Drought Brings Predators
Into Residential Areas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—
Frank Breen, his cocker spaniel and a 100-pound mountain lion exchanged stares at a distance of 10 feet.

Finally Breen decided it was time to do something:
"I called my wife," he said.
"When she came out of the house the lion loped away."

What to say to a mountain lion until your wife gets there is one of the things homeowners are learning these hot, dry, summer days and nights in Southern California's closest-to-nature suburbs.

Drought conditions—and, in some areas, the aridity after severe brush fires in the mountains—are driving animals down into foothill residential areas. Lions aren't the only problems.

An eagle took away a Hollywood woman's Chihuahua dog.
Her query to the State Fish and Game Department: "Is he coming back for the children?"

A pack of coyotes has moved into Pasadena's Annandale Country Club golf course, watching the activities there from as close as 50 feet. Early morning golfers say they make a disconcerting gallery.

In Corona Del Mar, Lee Heater, trying to frighten deer from his peach trees, rigged colored Christmas lights on his back fence in an unseasonal display which drew puzzled looks from neighbors. And the deer? "They seemed to like the lights," he found.

The best marksman from the Montrose sheriff's substation searched unsuccessfully in a helicopter in hopes of shooting a mountain lion which has devoured countless domestic cats in the Flintridge section.

And, above Hollywood's Laurel Canyon, a homeowner lost patience and bought a trap when raccoons playfully pulled all the plungers on his outdoor lighting and rearranged the garden furniture. They avoided the trap and countered by trying to drown his dog in the fish pond.

Spokesmen for the Fish and Game Department try and reassure foothill dwellers that, with the end of the summer dry season, the animals will go back to their own habitat and leave the pected to go well beyond their goals for the month when final reports are in.

The draft always has served as a prod for young men to sign up with the service of their choice.

Voluntary enlistments had lagged, particularly in the Army and Navy, until Johnson announced on July 28 that Selective Service goals would be doubled to about 35,000 a month
as part of the military buildup growing out of the war in Viet Nam.

In data made available to the
AP, the Army reported that 10,- 821 youths enrolled voluntarily in August—an increase of 1,743 over July. This brought the Army to 96.3 per cent of its enlistment objective for August.

The Navy said that "recruiting appears to be on the upswing throughout the nation."

It said "a definite increase in Navy enlistments has been noted since the President's speech regarding draft calls, the larger commitment of armed forces to Viet Nam, and the recently signed military pay bill."

The Navy predicted that its goal of 11,694 recruits for August will be topped by more than 1,000 men.

For the first time in nine years, the Navy will draw on the draft next month. It is scheduled to get 4,500 men by that route.

If the enlistment trend continues, the Navy may be able again to rely entirely on volunteers before long.

In reporting their increase in enlistments, the Marines said it was "not necessarily because of the announced draft increase." The corps did not cite an other reason, beyond saying the rise
"reflects increased requirements."

The corps provided no actual numbers, limiting itself to listing a 20 per cent gain.

The Air Force said it expects to top its August enlistment quota of 15,499 men and voiced confidence it will fill its 13,799-man quota for September.

In July, which was virtually at an end by the time Johnson announced the draft rise, the Air Force enrolled nearly 2,000 more young men than the 9,500
it had planned for that month.

"The Air Force has not had recent difficulties in fulfilling manpower requirements through enlistments," it said.

Drought Brings Predators Into Residential Areas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Breen, his cocker spaniel and a 100-pound mountain lion exchanged stares at a distance of 10 feet.

Finally Breen decided it was time to do something: "I called my wife," he said.

"When she came out of the house the lion loped away."

What to say to a mountain lion until your wife gets there is one of the things homeowners are learning these hot, dry, summer days and nights in Southern California's closest-to-nature suburbs.

Drought conditions — and, in some areas, the aridity after severe brush fires in the mountains — are driving animals down into foothill residential areas. Lions aren't the only problems.

An eagle took away a Hollywood woman's Chihuahua dog. Her query to the State Fish and Game Department: "Is he coming back for the children?"

A pack of coyotes has moved into Pasadena's Annandale Country Club golf course, watching the activities there from as close as 50 feet. Early morning golfers say they make a disconcerting gallery.

In Corona Del Mar, Lee Heater, trying to frighten deer from his peach trees, rigged colored Christmas lights on his back fence in an unseasonal display which drew puzzled looks from neighbors. And the deer? "They seemed to like the lights," he found.

The best marksman from the Montrose sheriff's substation searched unsuccessfully in a helicopter in hopes of shooting a mountain lion which has devoured countless domestic cats in the Flintridge section.

Spokesmen for the Fish and Game Department try and reassure foothill dwellers that, with the end of the summer dry season, the animals will go back to their own habitat and leave the residents alone. None of the native fauna will harm a human if left alone, they say.

This doesn't much reassure the residents of the Verdugo Hills, the only settled area where mountain lions have been reported.

A 9,000-acre fire in the hills last year burned away the natural ground cover and herds of small animals moved into foothill suburbs, followed by the predators who live on them, when the summer dry season set in.

Great Miami Fish Kill Under Probe

CINCINNATI (AP)—A team of state investigators was to tour the Great Miami River Valley around New Baltimore today as the result of a large fish kill reported this week.

There was no authoritative estimate on the number of fish killed, but witnesses said they found hundreds of small and large fish along the banks Tuesday and many others floated downstream to the Ohio River.

William Klein, chemist-biologist for the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission, said Thursday night he had inspected some of the dead fish and found a gelatinous substance on their gills. He said this might have caused the death.

"But this is not some toxic chemical or cyanide as in the case of some kills. This seems to be something different," Klein said.

Several large fish kills have been reported in the Great Miami in recent years and the Ohio Wildlife Division is now trying to collect a large fine from one manufacturer as the result of a kill of an estimated 7.8 million fish last year near New Miami. The Great Miami flows through a heavily industrialized area.

"The state of Ohio now means business on this polluting of water and killing of fish," Klein said.
